Pas de Calais Robomb Sites Given Pasting

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Allied warplanes estimated at more than 1,000 strong attacked the German naval base at Kiel, targets in the Bremen coastal area and eight flying bomb sites near Pas de Calais today, apparently co-ordinating the latter raid with the British land drive on the same section.

Approximately 600 Flying Fortresses, accompanied by about 300 fighters struck at Kiel and Bremen through clouds which forced them to bomb by instrument and prevented observation of results.

HIT BOMB SITES
More than 250 other heavy bombers struck the flying bomb launching platforms in the Pas de Calais area.

One plane was lost in the raid on Pas de Calais, and the pilots reported they encountered no enemy aircraft opposition and very little anti-aircraft fire. The target area, midway between the coast and a line drawn from Lille to Amiens, formerly sent up heavy flak barrages against Allied aircraft.

WIDESPREAD TARGETS
The assault on the flying bomb sites was made shortly after nearly 1,000 RAF and RCAF night bombers.

Five New Cases Polio Reported

Five new cases of infantile paralysis have been reported to Dr. A. Somerville, provincial director of communicable diseases, it was learned Wednesday.

Two of the cases are at High River, one is at Lethbridge, one at Blackfalds, north of Red Deer, and one at Lomond. The Blackfalds case is the first to break out north of Red Deer since June. One was reported at Edmonton, but was later diagnosed as a different malady.

A total of 45 cases have broken out in Alberta since Jan. 1, 40 of them being reported since the end of June.

No further reports have been received by the health department from Cold Lake, where a diphtheria outbreak was reported at the beginning of the week. One child died of the disease there, while six others are receiving medical care.

Red Army Captures Ploesti, Heart of Romanian Oil Zone

LONDON, Aug. 30.—(BUP)—The Soviet Ukrainian army has captured Ploesti, heart of the Romanian oil field, radio Moscow announced tonight.

Ploesti, supplying the German war machine with more than one-third of its entire oil supplies, has been the object of the Soviet drive for the last 10 days down through the Romanian plains.

In his order of the day announcing the victory, Premier Marshal Josef Stalin asserted that the capture of Ploesti had liberated all of the Romanian oil fields from German control.

MOSCOW, Aug. 30.—Russian cossacks, tanks and mechanized infantry, with nearly half of eastern Romania already in their hands, raced pell mell through disorganized German resistance today within 50 miles of Bucharest and 60 miles of the Bulgarian border.

A series of sensational advances ranging up to 70 miles topped Constanta, main German Black Sea naval base for the past three years, and carried almost to the rim of the great Ploesti oil fields, last major source of oil for Adolf Hitler's staggering war machine.

Canadians' Role In Victory Push Highly Praised

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—(CP)—The Canadian contribution to the victory now being scored cannot be over-estimated, Louis V. Hunter, Canadian Press war correspondent, said here yesterday in predicting an early end to the struggle against Germany.

Hunter arrived here yesterday after four years spent with Canadian land, air and sea forces in Great Britain, Africa, Sicily, Italy and Normandy.

"The First Canadian Army has been in the heaviest fighting," Hunter said.

"From Caen to Falaise, a distance of 20 miles, they had to fight every inch of the way, but they broke the pivot of the German position in France."

BATTLED FOR ARMOR

"In this action, and prior to it, they contained the bulk of the German armor, because the enemy could not chance a break-through at that point."

"This greatly assisted in the spectacular drives through Brittany and eventually towards Paris."

"It wasn't a spectacular role for the Canadians, but it was an effective one, and had to be done if other successes were to be achieved. They did a thorough job holding the Germans and

Allies Swing Salient Across Drome; Furious Battle Is Now Raging

ROME, Aug. 30.—(BUP)—American 7th Army troops, driving the remnants of the German 19th Army up the Rhone valley, crossed the Drome river today and slashed their way 10 miles northward to Chabeuil, six miles due east of the Rhone river town of Valence, 59 miles south of Lyon.

The Americans continued to inflict "further severe casualties," a late communiqué by Gen. Sir Henry Wilson announced. German forces were pinched into a triangle formed by the two converging rivers and other Allied troops driving northward from newly-captured Montelimar.

The spearhead thrust across the Drome encountered stiff German resistance and fierce fighting was in progress in the vicinity of Chabeuil, the communiqué announced.

Resistance was being overcome, meanwhile, at Sauset and Loriol, both within the triangle into which the Germans were being compressed. Headquarters described the fighting at Loriol as "particularly severe."

As one American force hammered the Germans frontally at Loriol, four miles east of the Rhone and a mile and a half below the Drome, another force drove eastward to

Guard at British Embassy In Paris Defies Goering

By LEONARD MOSLEY
(Of the Keweenaw News, United Kingdom)

PARIS, Aug. 29.—W. R. Chrystie was left behind to guard the embassy when the British diplomatic mission fled Paris in 1940.

Hermann Goering rang the bell one day in 1941, and Chrystie opened the door.

"I am going to take over this embassy as a private residence," said the fat field marshal, "so please show me in."

Chrystie, an ex-sergeant-major in a Lancashire regiment and a veteran of the Boer war, shook his head.

"I am sorry, sir," he said, "but this is British property and you cannot come in. Nor can you take over the building. I shall refuse to allow you to do so."

Goering squealed with rage. "You'll prevent me, you English pig, you—a servant," he cried. "I will have you jailed for that."

Chrystie bowed.

"As you wish, sir, but you are still not coming in, nor can you come here to live. This building is owned by His Majesty, King George VI, and it is protected under international law. If you enter, it will be over my dead body, and that goes for Herr Hitler, too."

Quietly but firmly, he pushed Goering back and closed the gale in his face.

Shortly afterward, Chrystie was arrested and sent to Saint Denis prison. Goering never lived in the British embassy and took the house of Baron Maurice Rothschild next door.

Chrystie stayed in jail five months, was then released under surveillance and returned to the embassy where I saw him yesterday.

Nazis Say Rouen Abandoned To British, Canuck Troops; Robomb Bases Are Menaced

By VIRGIL PINKLEY
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 30.—Berlin admitted that German troops had abandoned Rouen, medieval city guarding the robot bomb zone from Dieppe northward to the Pas de Calais, to United Kingdom and Canadian troops today, while American tank spearheads, racing northward almost unchallenged over the invasion roads to Belgium and Germany, entered Laon and the cathedral city of Reims.

The fall of Rouen, Seine river port with a normal population of 120,000 was not confirmed by Allied headquarters, but a big pincers movement developed by the Canadian 1st and British 2nd armies appeared to threaten to form all of the Havre peninsula into a trap for German forces fighting desperately to block the way to the robot bomb zone between Dieppe and along the Pas de Calais.

United Kingdom, Canadian and Allied forces linked their bridgeheads across the Seine above Paris into a solid 50-mile front and swung forward 25 miles beyond the Seine to drive an armored wedge between Rouen and Beauvais.

The British and Canadian armies smashing directly at Amiens and the heart of the bases from which German robot bombs have been showering down on England, captured Neufmarche, 25 miles east of Rouen and 15 miles west of Beauvais. A headquarters statement told of bitter fighting on the approaches to Rouen, the Germans having massed a veritable wall of 88 millimetre guns and mortars against the Canadians, who captured five villages last night in the most savage battle since Falaise.

At the same time, United Kingdom troops cut the main road from Paris to Rouen at several points and pushed at least 15 miles beyond to threaten the German garrison with encirclement. A German communiqué, announcing the evacuation of Rouen, which is familiar to hundreds of thousands of Empire troops who fought in the last war, said all harbor installations and other objectives of military importance had been destroyed.

LINE PUNCTURED
Armored spearheads of the American 1st and 3rd armies punctured the Aisne river line at at least two points and were reported pushing over the rolling farmlands beyond.

Bradley To Get Equal Status

By WILLIAM FRYE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—A new command organization in France giving Lt. Gen. Bradley equal status with Gen. Montgomery as an army group commander was reported today to be nearly ready for formal announcement.

Such a command change previously was reported by correspondents at General Eisenhower's headquarters. The report was received critically by some in Britain, however, who interpreted equal status for Bradley as a "demotion" for Montgomery.

In the original invasion organization, Montgomery not only had field command of all British troops but also was senior commander of all Allied ground forces.

After publication of these criticisms, a statement was issued at Allied supreme headquarters Aug. 16 which said:

"It is officially stated at supreme headquarters that announcement of General Bradley's command of the 12th Army group in no way affects the position of General Montgomery as overall commander of all Allied ground forces in France under General Eisenhower."

Persons closely in touch with the situation said today, however, that the British criticisms were unwarranted and that the change has been inevitable since Gen. Eisenhower took his headquarters to France and assumed personal command of the operations.

Polish Proposals Sent to Moscow

LONDON, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Premier Mikolajczyk sent to Moscow today the London Polish government's proposals for an agreement with the Soviet-sponsored Polish Committee of National Liberation.

The plan involves a cabinet realignment incorporating elements of the committee, now established at Lublin, and the Polish underground. The declaration emphasized the need for a long-term Polish-Russian alliance.

Largest Cabinet

Duplessis, 20 Que. Ministers Are Sworn In

QUEBEC, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Maurice Duplessis, leader of the Union Nationale, today was sworn in as premier of Quebec, together with 20 ministers of his cabinet. The total of 21 ministers in the cabinet made it the largest in Quebec's history.

Mr. Duplessis will be attorney-general and leader of the executive council as well as premier.

Other cabinet members: Onésime Gagnon, provincial treasurer;

Mr. Thomas Chapais, minister without portfolio and government leader in the legislative council;

John S. Bourque, minister of lands and forests;

J. H. A. Paquette, minister of health;

Benoit Dussault, minister of municipal affairs;

Antonio Talbot, minister of roads;

Rome Lorrain, minister of public works;

Jonathan Robinson, minister of mines;

J. D. Babin, minister of colonization;

Dr. Camille Pouliot, minister of game and fisheries;

Antonio Barrette, minister of labor;

Paul Beaulieu, minister of trade and commerce;

Laurent Barre, minister of agriculture;

Omer Cote, provincial secretary; Ministers without portfolio: Antonio Elie, Tancrède Labbe, Dr. Marc Trudel, Patrice Hardie, J. T. Larochelle, J. H. Delsile.

TO APPOINT SPEAKERS

Speakers of both the Legislative council and assembly will be appointed when the 22nd Quebec legislature meets for its first session but indications are that Hon. Alphonse Raymond (U.N. de L'Orme) will preside over debates of the council with Alexandre Taché (U.N., Hull) slated as speaker of the assembly.

It is understood that a minister of social welfare, created as a separate department at the last sessions of the 21st legislature, would be appointed later. Formerly, the minister of health also administered social welfare, but Dr. Paquette today was sworn in as health minister only.

Rumors among political observers were that a short fall session would be held, but there was no comment from the office of the new premier.

American Tanks Race North to German Border

Reims, Laon and Chalons sur Marne. American spearheads were 30 to 35 miles from the borders of Belgium, while other columns pounding eastward from Chalons were 85 miles or less from Germany.

American infantry were reported to be moving swiftly through the breaches created by the tank spearheads, while swarms of Allied warplanes rained before them to bomb and strafe the retreating enemy.

SPECTACULAR STRIDES

Official and enemy reports agreed that the Allied offensive was making spectacular strides over battle grounds where hundreds of thousands of men fought and died in 1918 to take and hold a few yards along the Marne and Aisne rivers.

American 3rd army tanks and infantry drove across the Marne at Spertny, pushed 13 miles northward to Reims, and then swept on more than 10 miles beyond that historic town to cross the Aisne at Neufchatel.

Simultaneously, Lt. Gen. Courtney Hodges' 1st U.S. Army troops pushed up from captured Soissons, across the Chemin des Dames, one of the bloodiest battlefields of World War I and on into Laon, 12 miles above the Aisne. Unofficial but apparently correct reports said Laon was captured and that the American advance guard had driven on beyond the city.

ABANDONED BY ENEMY

The region between the Marne and the Aisne had been reported one of the strongest outposts guarding the invasion roads to Germany, but today's progress indicated the enemy had abandoned it almost without a fight.

(A German Transocean news agency broadcast said the Americans had reached St. Dizier, 85 miles from the German border, but claimed they had been driven back by Nazi counter-attacks.)

Stiff resistance was encountered along the British and Canadian sectors above Paris, however, and official reports said the Germans were fighting a stubborn rear guard action there.

Taking their slogan, "one less kilometer, one less bomb," from an order of the day issued yesterday, the British and Canadian tank columns plunged forward from captured Etrepigny, to liberate Longchamps, 20 miles north of the Seine and 47 miles from Amiens, so-called flying bomb capital.

As the offensive gained momentum, London evening newspapers blazed with headlines: "Massed Tanks Race On In Battle For V-Sites," and "Tanks Race Into Fly-Bomb Battle."

ORDER OF DAY

"For the first time in this war," the British order of the day said, "we are fighting directly to free our homes, our wives and children from the German attacks."

"Every yard we advance reduces the area from which he can launch his secret weapons."

Especially capturing Etrepigny, 25 miles northwest of Amiens, which was overrun yesterday, and Longchamps, site of the famous French horse-racing classic, the British and Canadians practically wiped out the loops south of the Seine in which many Germans remain to be mopped up.

While front reports said the Germans were fighting desperately to stem the British thrust at the robot bomb centres, the fast-moving American columns spearheading toward Belgium, Luxembourg and the Reich itself continued to meet only slight resistance.

There was no indication that the American forces were more than light vanguards, similar to the cavalry patrols of a bygone era of war, but scores of small towns and villages were by-passed to be mopped up by the main bodies of the Allied armies advancing on a broad front from the region of the Marne and Seine.

PENETRATE CITY

Though supreme headquarters placed an American force still a mile and a half from the center of Laon, unofficial reports said they had penetrated the city, while the cathedral city of Reims, 80 miles northeast of Paris, had been reconnoitred from the west and south.

Front dispatches disclosed that Lt. Gen. Courtney L. Hodges' 1st Army had taken over the drive northward toward Belgium from Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr.'s 3rd Army.

After capturing Chateau-Thierry, Soissons, Belleau Wood and other battlefields of the last war, Hodges' advance forces crossed the Aisne river and stabbed northward to Laon, which lies 60 miles northeast of Paris and 25 miles northwest of Reims.

Both Laon and Reims lie on the main trunk line running west from Amiens over which the Germans have been moving major portions of their robot components from factories in the Rhineland.

One American column was astride the railway and main highways between Laon and Reims with the capture of Montargis, 10 miles southeast of Laon and 23 miles northwest of Reims.

Reims was outflanked from the south by the seizure of Epernay, 21 miles away, and Chalons-sur-Marne, 18½ miles east of Epernay, and 25 miles east of Reims.

American infantry cleared virtually all areas in and around northwest, north and northeast Paris and advanced to within a mile of Pontoise, 18 miles northwest of the capital.

Bamboozler

When "Carol Adair," above, in slinky black gown and trimmings, made a dramatic plane arrival at Boise, Idaho, as a Hollywood starlet appearing in Judy Garland's latest vehicle, "Meet Me in St. Louis," the town went wild, showered her with flowers, snapped camera shutters. Mrs. Betty Goldenbogen of Cleveland, O., plainly garbed 25-year-old secretary of Postmaster Harry Vost, also arrived in Boise, passed unnoticed through the thronged streets. Her boss, meanwhile, had himself a big laugh, for he alone knew that "Carol Adair" and his secretary were one and the same, and that the whole thing was a gag. According to reports, Boise is still blushing.

ALLIED TROOPS SWING SALIENT ACROSS DROME

Grane, four miles from Loriot, crossed the Drome and captured Alex on the north shore.

ENEMY THREATENED

The flanking movement threatened to cut off the desperate enemy troops, which had staggered to the Drome after breaking out of a trap below Montellier, 14 miles south of Loriot.

While there was no disclosure of German troop losses in the battles of the Rhone, a communiqué by Gen. Sir Henry M. Wilson reported that the number of prisoners taken in southern France had reached 45,000, of which 10,000 were seized at Mar-seille.

The Allies captured Maj. Gen. Otto Richter, commander of the 198th Infantry division, which prisoners said recently was transferred to southern France after being mauled in Russia. He was the sixth German general captured on this front in addition to Vice-Armistice, naval commander at Toulon, who surrendered to the French.

FRENCH FORCE AHEAD

As the Americans continued their steady drive up the east side of the Rhone to within 13 miles of Villeneuve, French troops of the 7th Army forced northward on the west bank to Bagnols, 18 miles northwest of Avignon and 28 southwest of Montellier.

The French and American troops of the 7th Army have liberated more than 20,000 square miles of territory since they landed Aug. 15.

SUCHOWTANG TAKEN BY CHINESE FORCES

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Chinese forces yesterday captured Suchowtang on the Canton-Hankow railway 55 miles north of the enemy-held bastion of Hengyang and increased their threat to Japanese communications along the vital Siang river, main supply line for Hunan province, the Chinese command announced.

Enemy columns trying to envelop or smash Chinese troops menacing Hengyang met stiff resistance east of Yungfeng, 45 miles northwest of the city, and there was severe fighting with considerable casualties on both sides, a communiqué said.

On the home front, the Chinese government announced the removal of Gen. Sheng Shih Tsai from the governorship of Sinkiang in far northwest China. Gen. Wu Chung Hsin, current chairman of the Mongolian and Tibetan affairs commission, was named as his successor.

ROOSEVELT PLANS TO OPEN CAMPAIGN ON SEPTEMBER 23RD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed yesterday that he has chosen the same setting for formal opening of his re-election campaign that he did in 1940 and will address an American Federation of Labor teamsters union meeting here Sept. 23.

He told a news conference it would be his first political speech of the campaign. Actually, he said, he did not believe the speech would be very political but that it would seem so and he might as well so label it in advance.

Mr. Roosevelt launched his third term speech-making campaign four years ago with an address to the International Teamsters Union (AFL) in Constitution Hall here.

Second Quadruplet Son of American Woman Succumb

GAINEVILLE, Ga., Aug. 30.—(AP)—A second quadruplet son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lee died yesterday at Hall County Memorial hospital.

The infant was the third-born of four boys, born prematurely Sunday night to the 25-year-old wife of a farmer now serving in the army. The first-born, weighing 2 pounds 14 ounces, died last night.

Attending physicians said the remaining two boys were in good condition and were expected to survive.

Mrs. Lee, in good condition, has not been told of the death of the two babies.

Atherton Says U.S. to Build On Solid Base

REGINA, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Ray Atherton, United States ambassador to Canada, said here today he believed the United States "will revert to its pre-war social and economic structure and will build post-war improvements on that solid foundation."

Speaking before the Canadian Club here, Mr. Atherton said in an address prepared for delivery that the war had interrupted a successful peacetime revolution in the United States, but that revolution—dedicated to establishing a secure and a happy way of life for the common man—would be resumed once the war was won.

The revolution consisted of plans and deeds which only the war could overshadow.

SOMETHING DONE

"To itemize these things would be impossible in a brief discussion," he said. "But President Roosevelt summed up the whole work when he said that he saw one-third of the nation ill-housed, ill-clad, and ill-fed, and when he added that something was going to be done about it—something was done about it."

Large rivers were dammed into developments. Millions of American farmers co-operated in soil conservation programs aimed at preventing erosion, substituting soil-building for soil-exhausting crops.

In the decade before the United States entered the war, roads, bridges, airfields, school houses, court houses and post offices were built. Hundreds of state parks and new areas of national forests were developed.

LOW RENT HOMES

With the aid of the United States government hundreds of communities began to tear down slums and build low-rent homes for low-income families.

In the field of labor, there was established labor's right to collective bargaining, fair wages, proper hours of work, and decent working conditions.

"These gains can never be lost," he said.

Russians Take Ploesti, Heart Rich Oil Zone

thing approaching effective resistance, and even there they were falling back steadily under the overwhelming weight of the Soviet offensive.

LAST OBSTACLE

In most sectors, the Russians were sweeping forward at will. The fall of Constanta removed the last obstacle north of the Bulgarian border, 60 miles to the south, and Soviet troops should reach there before the week-end. The Russians were not expected to cross the border, however, since the Soviets and Bulgaria never have broken off relations.

Constanta was captured yesterday by Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin's 3rd Ukrainian Army and Red Fleet marines in a combined land and sea assault under cover of a heavy bombardment by Russian planes and warships.

Tolbukhin's troops slashed 67 miles south from the Danube river port of Tulcea to reach Constanta, while Admiral Philipp S. Oktyabrskiy's marines made an 82-mile amphibious leap down the Black Sea coast from Sulina at the mouth of the Danube.

LAST NAZI PORT

The stunning swiftness of the Soviet assault probably enabled the Russians to seize intact Constanta's three miles of quays and a number of German warships, submarines and merchant vessels. Any warships that escaped faced a choice of capture, scuttling or internment, since Constanta was the last Black Sea port in German hands.

Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 2nd Ukrainian Army was mounting a growing threat to Bucharest with a drive down the Gernaut-Ploesti-Bucharest railway skirting the eastern foothills of the Carpathian mountains.

The 2nd army captured the important railway junction of Buzau, 39 miles northeast of Ploesti, yesterday in a 200-mile advance from Ramnicul-Sarat, pushed on another 20 miles and seized Baitopolul, and at last reports was only a little more than 30 miles from Ploesti and 50 miles northeast of Bucharest.

MOBILE COLUMNS

Soviet mobile columns between the two spearheads reaching through Buzau and Constanta rapidly were annihilating isolated enemy pockets.

There was no fresh news from the Russian column which drove through Otuz past northwest of Focseani and penetrated 10 miles into Hungarian-occupied northern Transylvania, but new Soviet successes were reported farther north.

Northeast of Praga, Warsaw's easternmost suburb, Russian forces beat off counter attacks and captured what the Soviet high command described in its midnight communiqué as "favorable positions."

Soviet armies on the Latvian front fanned out from the newly captured railway junction of Gulbene and captured Staki, two miles south and Blome, two miles north-east.

their push along the Caen-Falaise road was well planned and could not have been carried out more efficiently."

"The Canadian fighting man is as good or better than the best. His officers are of the highest calibre, though they probably are younger generally than the officers of any other army," Hunter said.

SAME FOR FLIERS

"The same goes for Canadians fighting in the air. There are no better fliers, probably because flying somehow seems to be in their blood."

"Canadian fighter wings in the 2nd tactical air force have been leaders almost from the time they were formed and the ground men in the air force are the keenest to be found anywhere. They work their hearts out on the aircraft and the team spirit is remarkable."

Hunter declared that "the last decisive battles were the ones fought by Canadian, British and Polish troops of the Canadian First Army along the road between Caen and Falaise in the low rolling Normandy country."

Waves of Robots Hurlled at London

By A. I. GOLDBERG

LONDON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Waves of flying bombs were hurled against London and southern England by the Germans during the night after two successive bombless nights.

The assaults apparently were launched from the usual sites, including the area west of Boulogne now threatened by the rapid advance of the Allied armies in France.

It was believed here that the recent lull in robot raids has been at least partially due to transportation difficulties faced by the Germans in moving the bombs to launching sites.

The overnight raids followed up a series of sporadic daylight attacks which took a new toll of death and destruction.

The attacks were brief, but they upheld a government warning that the end of the robot menace was not in sight despite the reported capture of 14 launching platforms in the Lisieux and Bernay area between Caen and the Seine and the incessant aerial pounding of others.

ers returned from plastering targets over a widespread area of Germany from Berlin to the big Baltic ports of Stettin and Koenigsberg.

Low-hanging clouds partially obscured the flying bomb bases in northern France, but the American bombers hit the targets by instrument.

INTENSE OFFENSIVE

The attack on the Pas de Calais was the opening phase of today's continuation of the intense Allied aerial offensive, which the RAF Bomber Command carried through the night in the attacks on Germany.

Four-engined Lancaster bombers, striking in direct support of Russian troops on the eastern front, unloaded more than 1,300 tons of high explosives and incendiaries on Stettin, stoking vast fires that sent smoke soaring 26,000 feet into the air.

The heavy attack added considerable damage to the already-battered port and its vital canal, which only yesterday was reported to have been blocked effectively by British bombers which hit there last week.

Both Stettin and Koenigsberg, where results were not visible because of clouds, are on major supply lines for German troops and equipment moving east. Koenigsberg, capital of East Prussia and the target of another night assault last Saturday, is within 100 miles of the Russian front.

While the heavy bombers were concentrated on the two ports, Mosquitos dumped two-ton blockbusters on Berlin and high explosives and incendiaries on the wreck-age of Hamburg.

The extent of the night operations, in which mines also were laid in enemy waters, was indicated by the loss of 41 RAF planes.

Reports Bulgaria's Neutrality Accepted By Russia Is Denied

LONDON, Aug. 30.—(CP)—The Moscow radio last night denied what it described as "foreign press statements" that Russia had accepted a Bulgarian declaration of neutrality.

Moscow called Bulgaria's declaration of neutrality "totally insufficient" to meet the situation which has arisen, indicating that Bulgaria must do more in order to get out of the war.

The confusion also was drawn from the broadcast that Bulgaria must comply with armistice demands to be presented by the United States and Britain. Bulgaria is not at war with Russia.

Puppet Slovak State Is Being Seized By Nazis

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Gen. Ferdinand Callos, commander-in-chief of Slovakia's armed forces, announced in a broadcast over the Bratislava radio last night that German troops were carrying out a full-scale occupation of the Nazi established puppet state amid continuing guerrilla activity.

In his broadcast, which was reported by the Federal Communications Commission, General Callos appealed to the people to receive the Germans as allies and to obey "only government orders" and not be swayed by the guerrillas.

The puppet Slovak authorities declared martial law on Aug. 12 because of "the general war situation" and because, they said, "groups of parasitists" had been dropped in several mountain regions of eastern and northeastern Slovakia.

Freight Handlers End 2-Day Strike At Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Approximately 100 freight handlers of the Steamship forwarding company here ended a two-day walkout and returned to their jobs today.

Decision to break the strike was reached at a general mass meeting of the men last night.

The men did not disclose the reason for the walkout Monday morning. It was stated unofficially they left their jobs because a foreman had been swearing at them. Steamship officials had reported there was nothing to warrant a walkout and officials of the men's grievance committee declared the men had no reason to leave their work.

As Defeat Draws Near Fear Hitler and His Henchmen May Soon Flee From Germany

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Military leaders here are becoming increasingly apprehensive over the possibility that Adolf Hitler and some of his henchmen may fly from Germany in the next few weeks and seek refuge in a neutral country.

Concern has become such that a new appeal may be issued to the neutrals not to give sanctuary to the men who led the world into war.

Such an appeal could be directed particularly to Spain and Argentina, because of their past or present links with the Nazi government of Germany and the suspicious current in diplomatic and treasury circles here that the German leaders have stored funds in both countries.

American officials consider it a foregone conclusion that many of the Nazi hierarchy who are too well-known to have any chance of concealment in Germany by going underground will try to save themselves from Allied trial and punishment by dramatic airplane escapes.

What Hitler will do remains the all-consuming speculation in Washington, and the conviction of officials with whom the subject has been discussed is that if he is not killed at the last minute by some of his own henchmen he may very well kill himself. There always remains the chance, however, that he will quit the country.

It has been almost exactly a year since the question of sanctuary was last taken up with the neutrals.

The state department then instructed its diplomatic representatives in Stockholm, Ankara, Madrid, Lisbon, Bern, Vatican City and Buenos Aires to call attention of the neutral governments to a press conference statement by President Roosevelt urging against asylum for "Axis leaders or their tools."

N.B. Service Vote Known by Tuesday

FREDERICTON, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Further reports yesterday and last night from constituencies where all polls had not been reported up to early yesterday, generally increased the winning candidates' margins and left the party standing unchanged at 36 Liberals and 12 Progressive Conservatives following Monday's general election in New Brunswick.

Formal declaration day proceedings will be held next Tuesday, when results of voting by members of the armed services in New Brunswick, other parts of Canada and outside the Dominion are expected to be available. It was regarded as unlikely that these figures would change the effect of the civilian vote.

One of the stiffest battles was in York where, after an alternating trend, Premier McNair continued to lead last night with a majority of 544 over his nearest opponent with only six polls remaining to be reported. Election of the premier and three running mates was conceded early yesterday.

Turkey Accused Harboring Spies

MOSCOW, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The semi-official newspaper Pravda today accused Turkey of harboring German spies and turning her diplomatic break with the Nazis into a "friendly rupture."

With Russian troops closer to the Dardanelles than on any occasion since the First Great War, Pravda asserted German diplomatic, military, aviation and commercial attaches still were in Ankara 20 days after their scheduled departure.

The article carried the dateline of Batum, nearest Russian Black Sea port to Turkey, and was spread over two columns on Pravda's foreign news page. Its significance could hardly be over-emphasized.

At the same time the United States federal communications commission reported a Moscow broadcast appealing to Spaniards to oust the Franco regime and break with Germany "to gain a place for Spain among the democratic and freedom-loving nations." It said Franco was a "willing host for all Fascists who are trying to escape the people's justice."

Coast Merchants Take Precautions For Victory Day

VANCOUVER, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Anticipating hectic celebrations on V-day when Germany throws in the sponge, Vancouver Retail Merchants' Association yesterday presented to Mayor J. W. Cornett its tentative plans to protect merchants' store windows from merry-makers.

The association suggests that valuables be removed from windows and that barricades be then erected to protect merchants from acquisitive celebrators.

"It was suggested that stores close as quickly as possible after receipt of the news. If the news were received before noon, stores would close for the balance of the day. After noon they would close for the remainder of the day and for the next day. In the event of an evening break, stores would not open the following day."

Maj. Yates Given Army Promotion

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Maj. G. G. Yates, 46, who was seconded for duty with the directorate of public relations (army) at defence headquarters here in 1942, has been appointed assistant director with rank of Acting Lieutenant-Colonel. It was announced today.

Before the war Col. Yates was editor of the Nanaimo (B.C.) Free Press, and prior to that had been a news writer with newspapers in Saskatchewan, Winnipeg, Montreal and Vancouver.

He is a veteran of the First Great War.

Weather

It was suggested that stores use as quickly as possible after receipt of the news. If the news are received before noon, stores would close for the balance of the day. After noon they would close for the remainder of the day and the next day. In the event of an evening break, stores would not open on the following day.

THE FORECASTS

Saskatchewan and Alberta—Generally fair and cool today and Thursday. Manitoba—Strong wind, cloudy and cool today with occasional rain chiefly in eastern portion; Sunday, fresh to strong winds, cloudy and cool with light scattered showers.

NAZIS MAY BE TESTING NEW WEAPON

FOLKESTON, England, Aug. 30.—(CP)—This southeast coast town shook and the earth rumpled for several seconds just before midnight last night and speculation immediately ranged from a prosaic demolition of a munitions dump in France to the possibility that the Germans were testing their long-threatened "vengeance weapon No. 2."

Various reports said the shock, whatever it was, shook the whole southeast coast and was the heaviest felt during the war. The sound appeared to originate a long distance away.

Allies Nearing Nazi Gothic Line

Reveal Butchery in Camp

Unimaginable Horrors Laid Bare By German Prisoners at Trial

By DANIEL DE LUCE

LUBLIN, Poland, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Four German prisoners of war stood with a bored air in front of a Russian-Polish atrocities commission here and told their stories of Majdanek, perhaps the greatest horror in Nazi Europe.

In curt phrases they said that men, women and children of 22 nationalities had been gassed, hanged, shot, burned, drugged or starved to death in the three years of the operation of the Majdanek barbed-wire-enclosed camp in a rolling meadowland at the edge of Lublin. Russians and Poles have estimated that it received more than 500,000 persons doomed to extermination.

GHASTLY FANTASY

Majdanek is a ghastly fantasy. It was established for murder on a vast but methodical scale. Until a group of British and American correspondents visited it Sunday—with its six concrete vaults for execution by cyanide or carbon monoxide gas, its open air crematorium surrounded with skeletons, its mounds of human ashes mixed with manure for fertilizing cabbage patches and its overflow burial ground in a pine woods carpeted with decaying bodies—most of these newspapermen could not even begin to imagine the proportions of its frightfulness.

That night, our clothes still reeking of the dead, we sat in a stuffy Lublin courtroom while three German S.S. (Elite Guard) officers and one German civilian renegade spoke indifferently of Majdanek's scenes of slaughter and blamed all on "orders from above."

N. A. Stalb, a blonde, six-foot German butcher, arrested in 1939 for selling meat in the black market, told of his incarceration in Majdanek, during which he once became a member of the barracks police detail.

HAWL OUT CORPSES

"I have seen a tractor haul as many as 400 corpses at one time from the 'bath and disinfection house' to the ovens on the hill," he said. "One day I saw the bodies of 157 Polish children who had been gassed. Another time I saw a group of Polish women marched up a hill to be shot to save the trouble of gassing them."

"They were ordered to disrobe. One refused, a girl about 25 to 28. Two men tied her hands and legs, put her on a steel stretcher and thrust her alive into the white hot oven."

SS Kommandofuehrer Theodore Schoelen, 40, in charge of clothing collection at the shower room adjoining the gas chambers, admitted remembering Nov. 3, 1943, when, according to the camp records, 18,400 prisoners received "special treatment" which reduced the number of camp prisoners by that number.

ORDER FROM "ABOVE"

"It was an order from above, perhaps direct from Berlin," he said. "The wireless played Strauss waltzes through the camp loudspeakers all that day and most of us were told to stay in barracks. I know nothing more about it. I always gave bread and cigars away to the prisoners."

Two other German prisoners gave similar conclusive evidence of the mass slaughters.

The Russian-Polish commission said the following facts had been adduced from seized documents, from testimony of the German personnel and of surviving prisoners, such as the French Communist, fisherman Corenten Ledu of Brittany:

Majdanek housed from 30,000 to 40,000 prisoners but the turnover in three years probably exceeded 600,000.

The gas chambers were sufficient to kill 2,000 in less than seven minutes. The crematory ovens handled 1,900 corpses in a 24-hour period.

The majority of the dead were Soviet war prisoners, Poles and Jews, but every country in Europe was represented, also "China."

Accident Victim

Said Recovering

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—(CP)—W. H. Wharton, chief engineer of the Allied war supplies board, was reported by physicians yesterday to be recovering satisfactorily from injuries received in an automobile accident along the Soulanges Canal Friday night. (The Canadian Press Monday erroneously reported that Mr. Wharton had died as a result of the accident.)

There was a strange assortment of equipment left behind by the Germans in many of the sectors in the Normandy fighting. German Losses In France May Be 340,000 Men

LONDON, Aug. 30.—(CP)—The campaign in western and northern France already has cost the Germans at least 345,000 men on the basis of incomplete tabulations.

Supreme headquarters announced last night that 92,000 prisoners had been taken by the Allies in northwestern France between Aug. 10 and Aug. 25, of which from 42,000 to 45,000 were taken in the Falaise pocket area itself.

This brought the total German casualties in the western French campaign to more than 275,000 to date.

POSSIBLE DUPLICATIONS

The toll does not include operations by the 1st Canadian Army and British 2nd Army since Aug. 25, but it also does not allow for certain possible duplications.

In addition to the 42,000 prisoners taken in the Falaise pocket, 30,000 Nazis were killed there.

A British 2nd Army spokesman said that this army, the 1st Canadian Army and the American 1st Army, among them, had taken 92,000 prisoners out of the Falaise pocket but a headquarters statement later said this figure was erroneous.

The American 3rd Army announced Monday it had killed or captured 81,000 Germans since the start of the operations in Brittany and, in addition, there were roughly 125,000 Germans accounted for in Allied operations exclusive of the Falaise gap and before the 3rd Army went into action.

A Rome dispatch Monday estimated German losses in southern France at more than 50,000, raising the total for all France close to 400,000.

Believe Bulgaria To Accept Terms

ANKARA, Aug. 30.—(AP)—It was believed in Ankara last night that Stojche Moshanov, Bulgarian peace emissary, had informed the Allies of Bulgaria's acceptance of armistice terms.

Although there was no confirmation, informed sources said an armistice with Bulgaria was imminent. Owing to military considerations, it was said, the document might be signed at Cairo.

Moshanov returned to Istanbul from Ankara late yesterday.

Canucks Fight Into Outskirts Of Inglemare

By WILLIAM STEWART

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY ON THE SEINE, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Forward Canadian infantry fought their way last night into the outskirts of Inglemare, a settlement on the east bank of the Seine only three miles south of Rouen.

The Germans are resisting along this sector of the Canadian bridgehead over the river with 88-mm. guns and machine-guns but the Canadians are advancing steadily, although it is slow work weeding out the guns in their path.

SEE CITY OF ROUEN

Before nightfall Canadian forces could see the city of Rouen sprawled across the Seine ahead of them.

Other Canadian infantrymen pushed toward the village of Quevreville-Poterie, two miles south of Boos and about eight miles southeast of Rouen, and Canadian infantry and tanks gained positions dominating the Parie - Fleury - Rouen highway in the area of Boos.

Farther west, British troops of the 1st Canadian army advanced into the Ducalir loop of the Seine, west of Rouen, against stiff opposition.

In the third big loop of the river and the one nearest the channel coast, British forces in the forest of Brotonne continued systematically to clear out dogged enemy elements which were resisting to the end.

Additional forces of infantry and armor have been moving over the Seine crossings southeast of Rouen all day and pushing over hills and through woods where the Germans maintained stubborn rear-guard detachments. There were signs after noon yesterday that the enemy was giving up the fight to contain this bridgehead and the Canadians have gone forward, overcoming and bypassing what rear-guard pockets have been left behind.

GET ACROSS SEINE

Strong Canadian reconnaissance forces armed with plenty of machine-guns, mortars and self-propelled anti-tank guns got across the Seine yesterday and are working in and around the roads to the east of the Seine's Rouen loop.

Artillery also was towed across the river as fresh troops and Sherman tanks went over. Some tanks which crossed Monday went through forward infantry positions and carried the attack north toward Boos and eastward toward Pitres, 3½ miles east and slightly north of Pont de L'Arche. SS troops tried to filter back into the Pitres area Monday.

Parties of enemy storm troops who occupied houses and set up machine-guns along the river opposite Pont de L'Arche retired yesterday, apparently having decided they could be of little use there.

The crossings in the Elbeuf and Pont de L'Arche area have been consolidated into a single bridgehead since Sunday.

At the lower side of the Seine's northward loop to Rouen, farther west, other Canadian forces continued yesterday to sweep the De La Londe forest and moved up to the river line in the Moulineux area, nine miles southwest of Rouen.

Defence Ministers Laud War Workers

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—(CP)—The three defence ministers—Navy Minister Macdonald, Defence Minister Ralston and Air Minister Power—yesterday issued Labor Day messages, praising the work done by Canadian men and women during the war years.

Mr. Macdonald said the workers of Canada, in co-operation with management, have created a magnificent naval shipbuilding and ship repair industry in support of the great contribution made to the war effort by the fighting forces.

"The equipment and munitions they have turned out is on duty on every battle front," he said. "In quality and performance the war supplies made in Canadian plants by Canadian workmen and work women are second to none anywhere."

Mr. Power said that in 1939 "we plunged into total war with little behind us other than conviction of the righteousness of our cause and the courage to uphold that cause."

No one could help but realize that without the help of labor "we should never have succeeded," he said.

AB Wispinski, son of Joseph Wispinski of Haight, Alberta, enlisted in the Royal Canadian Navy, July 30, 1942, at Edmonton.

Col. Ralston said Canadian workers have great reason to be proud of their achievements in this war.

"The equipment and munitions they have turned out is on duty on every battle front," he said. "In quality and performance the war supplies made in Canadian plants by Canadian workmen and work women are second to none anywhere."

Publinks Golfer Amateur Champ

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Ed Furgol, 24-year-old Birmingham, Mich., public links player, won the all-American amateur golf championship Tuesday at Tam O'Shanter shooting a 73, one over par, to defeat Earl Christiansen, Miami, Fla., policeman, and Ken Heilemann, St. Louis chemist, in an 18-hole play-off after they had tied at 295 in the regulation 72-hole test.

Furgol's 73 put him three strokes ahead of Christiansen, and six up of Heilemann, the policeman manufacturing a 76 and Heilemann a 78.

Furgol thus succeeds Dale Morry of Indianapolis, Ind., the 1943 winner, who withdrew after the third round this year.

M. J. Coldwell, national leader, is expected to head the delegation, but members still are to be chosen.

Fortress City Of Le Havre Is "Mystery"

By ROSS MUNRO

HONFLEUR, France, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Le Havre is the mystery city of this front.

Standing here on the cliffs of Honfleur, you can look right into the great French port 3½ miles away across the Seine estuary, and you cannot see a thing moving. It looks deserted and dead, yet there are plenty of Germans garrisoning it as a fortress.

Its batteries of coastal guns do not fire a shot. The huge port area with its cranes and wharves is quiet. You can see white concrete forts along the cliffs and on the fringe of the woods, but the enemy is lying doggo.

It is an eerie business scanning this citadel commanding the mouth of the Seine through binoculars, knowing you are looking into a German-held city yet not being under enemy fire.

This ancient port of Honfleur was liberated last week by Belgian troops and British air-borne troops operating as infantry. It

Canada More Than Meeting Egg Objectives

By C. H. HIGGINBOTHAM

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—Canada is more than meeting the egg export requirements for Great Britain and is still retaining her position as the top egg consumer of the world in the domestic market, it was revealed here today.

There is no egg shortage in Canada, officials declared, although there have been the normal seasonal and geographical difficulties which have always existed in some parts of Canada. Canadians today are eating more eggs than ever they did before and production peaks are being reached.

1944 OBJECTIVE

The 1944 production objective for Canada was set at 365,000,000 dozen, ten per cent over that of 1943, and this will be attained. Moreover, approximately twice as many eggs in powdered form, are being shipped to Great Britain than last year.

With the early finish of the European war a consequent easing up of the shipping situation expected it is confidentially believed that Canada will ship many shelled eggs to Britain in the not distant future. All the eggs are now being shipped in powdered form, and while these are palatable, the shelled eggs are naturally preferred by the British consumer. Before the war Canada shipped about one million dozen eggs annually to Great Britain.

Increasing domestic egg consumption during the war has been attributed to two causes: the increase in purchasing power generally and the former scarcity of some meat products. Some increase in egg consumption was noted during the era of meatless Tuesdays in public eating places, and, despite the fact that meat rationing has been discontinued, there has been no overall decrease in egg consumption.

Nazi Admits Defeat Hints Germany Will Accept "Reasonable" Allied Terms

LONDON, Aug. 30.—(CP)—In a gloomy review of the Nazi war picture, Lt.-Gen. Kurt Dittmar implied last night that Germany would be willing to cease fighting if the Allies would relax their war aims and substitute "an attitude of reason and better understanding." He addressed the German people by radio.

The high command propagandist acknowledged German reverses in France and deplored developments in Romania, but said that nevertheless Germany "has to continue as long as our enemies stick to their war aims," and "as long as reason and better understanding have not replaced this determination to destroy Germany."

"If this determination did not exist," he said, "if the world we face had been ready honestly to recognize the living rights of a great, capable and hard-working nation, no reason could have been seen why this misery had to fill the world once more for half a decade, and will continue to fill it."

ALLIES SEE VICTORY

Dittmar said that the development of the war situation "may certainly have raised the hopes among our enemies that his objective, the military defeat of Germany, is no longer as far away as only three months ago."

"The outward development of events even appears to justify this view to a large extent," he said.

Drawing a parallel between Allied successes in 1944 and the German victories of 1940, Dittmar said "Equipment led to success—and the numerical superiority is today on the enemy side."

He added, however, that "the British and Americans are still on a bloody and tiresome road, whose end cannot be gauged yet."

SELF-PRESERVATION

Dittmar said it is now a "question of self preservation or annihilation," adding, "In two months we have lost a considerable proportion of the fruits we harvested earlier and thought we could hold for good as a foundation for our economic and military position."

Dies of Wounds

LONDON, Aug. 30.—(CP)—William Makin, war correspondent for the Kenmare newspapers of Great Britain, died yesterday of wounds suffered while reporting U.S. Army attacks in the Cherbourg Peninsula. His widow and three children survive. Makin was the 38th Allied war correspondent to lose his life in this war.

Germans Warned

LONDON, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Both the British foreign office and Polish ministry of information in London last night warned the Germans they would be duly prosecuted and punished if they failed to treat Polish army home forces in accordance with the laws and customs of war.

Congress Warned Big Nazi Firms Menace to Peace

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Congress received a warning yesterday from Attorney-General Biddle that there can be no lasting peace until the power of German-controlled international cartels is broken.

He reviewed before a senate military sub-committee the pre-war commercial activities which he said were carried out by such big German firms as Carl Zeiss, Friedrich Krupp, the Stahlwerkverband, Steel Trust, Oram and I. G. Farbenindustrie, and declared:

"A peace with Germany which leaves those companies intact will be a peace to insure another war," he said. "The period between the last and the present world war was only an armistice during which the firms of Germany conducted a war against us."

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Meat rationing will start Sept. 16 for the 2,000,000 inhabitants of Rio de Janeiro and the Brazilian federal district. Families of two probably will be allowed a half pound of meat daily.

New Brunswick Results

The Liberal government of Premier J. B. McNair has been returned in New Brunswick with an increased majority.

The Progressive Conservatives, under their leader Hugh Mackay, met a decisive defeat and lost seven of the seats they formerly held.

The CCF campaign did not bring the results anticipated and failed to elect a single member.

Although the Progressive Conservatives attempted to label Premier McNair as a "Charlie McCarthy" of the Ottawa government, the charge fell flat. Federal issues were notably absent from the campaign.

The New Brunswick Liberals went to the country on a program of social reform and with an admittedly good administrative record over the past nine years. This campaign met with even greater success than the Liberal leaders had expected.

The New Brunswick election was the first encouraging election for the Liberals in more than two years. It is significant to note that this isolated Liberal success was won on a basis of social reform. It is something for Ottawa to consider.

The nine provinces now present a jigsaw puzzle for political experts to solve.

Only the three Maritime provinces are Liberal; Quebec is in the hands of the pro-Fascist Union Nationale; Ontario is Progressive Conservative with a minority in the Legislature; Manitoba is a perplexing coalition; Saskatchewan is CCF; Alberta is Social Credit; British Columbia has a union government with none too cohesive qualities.

Taken by and large, this is really something for the political wiseacres to unscramble.

Barbaric Thrills

It has become the fashion to show in the news reels something of the toll of war among the enemy. Someone apparently believes it affords wholesome satisfaction to our public to display on the screen horrific pictures of the German dead, mangled young men sprawled out on battlefields and torn young bodies lying among wrecked equipment.

It is time this savage notion was countered with a protest. For who can believe that the mothers and wives and sisters of Canadian servicemen can view with anything but abhorrence this grisly portrayal of the frightfulness of war?

It is true that these poor dead bodies were once our enemies, that their last act in life was probably to attempt the destruction of our own boys. But even that being so, they have paid for their temerity. Surely even a savage enemy is entitled to rest in peace.

It is probably trite and tiresome to recite the plea that each one of these fallen Germans was the focus of a family's affections, that the grief of bereaved German mothers is probably as deep and poignant as that of our own.

Nevertheless, there is an element perhaps of indecency, certainly of ungenerosity, in parading these broken bodies before the curious eyes of a continent.

The spectacle may afford a thrill. But it is a barbaric thrill, incompatible with the tenets of civilization.

Salvage Operations

The salvage section of the War Services Council has issued a general invitation to the citizens of Edmonton to visit the salvage depot at 120 street and 106 avenue in order that they may see for themselves the salvage operations being carried on in this community.

It is an invitation that should have wide acceptance.

The job of collecting and shipping salvage materials is one of the most important parts of the civilian war effort. Nor does what appears to be the rapid approach of victory minimize the urgent need for these raw materials of war.

The salvage section of the War Services Council has pursued its task under unusual difficulties. Edmonton is far from the centres where the materials are processed. Freight rates are an adverse factor in the situation here.

That is why the section is entitled to expect unusual co-operation from the public. A visit to the depot will prove enlightening.

Outrageous Interference

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is supposed to have written a personal letter to President Roosevelt, the alleged details of which have just been published.

Portions of this letter read as follows: "For the sake of our common victory, the United Nations must seek to stabilize the Indian situation and to secure the Indian people's participation in the joint war effort."

"The Indian people as a whole only desire freedom for their country, and their only expectation is that the United Nations will sympathize with them in their aspiration."

"I earnestly hope that the United States will advise Britain and India, in the name of justice and righteousness, to seek a reasonable and satisfactory solution, for this affects vitally the welfare of mankind and has a direct bearing on the good faith and good name of the United Nations. The United States, as the acknowledged leader of democracy, has a natural and vital role to play in bringing about a successful solution of the problem."

In other words, the Chinese leader urges the American leader to instruct the British leader how to solve his domestic problems.

This, if it is true, is a piece of outrageous interference.

It is the more outrageous coming from a man who has notoriously failed to complete the unity of his own country. For, as Vice-President Henry Wallace of the United States confided to friends upon his return from China, the war lords still run amok in that unhappy country and there is not even a semblance of national cohesion.

What has China ever done for India? What has the United States ever done for India?

It does not become either of these nations to dictate, in the matter of India, to Great Britain who has contributed to Indian unrest only by so elevating Indian standards and Indian enlightenment to the point where the people of that country begin to understand what liberty is.

Overseas Christmas Mail

The post office department has issued a reminder that deadline dates for Christmas overseas mail are approaching. Those who propose to send parcels to the fighting men are urged to begin their planning now.

For safe and timely arrival, September 15 is the deadline date for all parcels going to the Far East, India, Burma and Ceylon.

October 5 is the deadline for the Middle East area, Egypt, Iran, Iraq and Syria.

October 15 is the latest date parcels may be safely shipped to the United Kingdom, France and Italy.

These dates, we are informed, are subject to change.

The post office department, too, has issued instructions with regard to packing and addressing. The public would do well to follow these with care.

That the boys overseas may not be disappointed, it is recommended that parcels be shipped as early as possible.

CCF Gains

Editor, Bulletin: The CCF and some others have been making the point that in the 1940 Alberta election, the CCF got 11 per cent of the vote, and in 1944 it got 25 per cent. This has been used to paint some kind of a moral victory for the Socialist party.

It should be remembered, however, that in 1940 the CCF had only 38 candidates in the field, against the full slate of 57 in 1944, and could not, therefore, help getting many more votes this year.

In this new light, it would appear that the CCF moral gains are not as great as some people would like to think.

Used Car Prices

Editor, Bulletin: It seems to me that the W.P.T.B. in referring to car racketeering, is itself in the same business or favorable to it.

I think the purpose of the ruling is to place all sales of used cars in the hands of the dealers and so give them the monopoly.

First a ceiling price on used cars regardless of cost, make or condition of car. A car that is not ready for the junk yard through neglect and abuse but can command top price: an older model kept in good condition must be sold at a ridiculously low price on account of age, no consideration given for care and expense; only model counts.

Wheat to Eat

Editor, Bulletin: In a recent Bulletin there was an editorial story entitled "Wheat is Primarily to Eat" (By J. H. Gray), and I would like to express one reader's approval of that principle, and to add a word or two of comment.

It seems to me that Canadians generally, and westerners particularly, will be wise to ponder the following facts brought forward by your writer, because I happen to know that they are, indeed, stubborn facts: (1) "Despite the surpluses of the early 1930's, the world has never produced enough wheat to give all the people, or even the majority of them, enough bread to eat"; and (2) "True, alcohol can be made from wheat but it is economical to do so now only if wheat can be bought for 25 cents a bushel."

According to the experts, "the total supply of Canadian wheat in the 1944-45 crop year will be about 825 million bushels" i.e., just 63 million bushels less than a year ago. So, apparently, we are running a season behind current demand for with a crop "in the bin" as an emergency reserve of the bread-grain?

When I consider today's state of the world, I am satisfied that every bushel will be needed, and that it will be good national policy for Canada to give dynamic leadership in the direction of getting the tariff and quota obstacles removed from the international wheat-stream.

We need a more realistic approach to this great problem, and "let the chips fall where they may."

A suggestion that Jack Canuck's famous cereal be made something in the nature of a tariff-free international raw material has been "played down" by short-sighted selfish industrial interests—but it looked good and sound to me.

Anything that tends to rust or sever the link between this productive land and the world's hunger, is bad national policy, I think.

PRIMARY PRODUCER,
Toronto, Ont.

Done Before

Editor, Bulletin: It has just come to light that the Colony of Maryland had a Social Credit system successfully in operation for 35 years. Recent research by Princeton University has discovered that in 1733, because of a shortage of English coin, Maryland began issuing its own debt-free money. This new money was actually given away, so much to every person over 15 years of age. The Princeton Economist notes that this was the "social dividend" advocated by Major C. H. Douglas, and says that not only was agriculture and trade greatly benefited but also that there was no inflation or deflation.

It is significant to record that this "money for nothing" did not demoralize the people. When, prior to 1776, the Bank of England persuaded the despotic George III to take away from the colonies their sovereignty over money and then imposed a deflation on the country, they rebelled and won the War of Independence. The new U.S. constitution specified that "the Congress shall have the right to issue money and regulate the value thereof," but Alexander Hamilton soon farmed this power out and put the country back on the European debt-money system with results such as we have seen as recently as 1932 when thousands of banks crashed.

Incidentally, how does this check with the CCF "line" that to have Social Credit you must first have everything owned and operated by the state?

Religious Education

Editor, Bulletin: Re religion in our schools—some thirty years ago when I attended school we were taught about religion. Today the condition in which we find ourselves must be taken as proof that what we had been taught was not impressed on our minds to the extent that it was of any value.

If we are ever to create a heaven or a sane earth to live in, we first must learn about the composition of that which we live in, and exist in.

Science claims that all is composed of tiny specks of energy called electrons. These electrons are governed by certain laws and these laws must be non-changeable. If we had known these laws years ago, we could have had radio, but being ignorant of the laws we had to do without. The same state of ignorance we lived in years ago re the laws governing energy can be likened to our present state regarding religion. We should find out science, prove by actual experiment what we at present only think to be truths.

When a Man appeared on this earth some 1944 years ago with an understanding of the laws and tried to teach them to us men living in ignorance, He told us to prove all things. He demonstrated by healing the sick etc. that he knew what he was speaking about. He claimed "These things I do ye shall do also even greater" and because we had not evolved to a state of intelligence that would enable us to grasp anything that did not register on our minds through our ordinary sense of that time, we most likely as we would today—killed him.

When we understand that our universe is composed of energy governed by law and that law is God and subject to that intelligence within every human, that enters the

Oil in the Post-War World

How Will Earth's Fuel be Shared Among Allied Nations?

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—When the peace planners sat down in 1919 to try to make a new world, they found on their conference table every imaginable problem—economic, political, social, the whole works. Looking back, we can readily understand why the harassed politicians in Paris failed to untangle all the complicated, technical difficulties that grew out of World War I.

This time there is an augury of hope in the fact that a whole series of preliminary meetings during the past year have at least cut away the underbrush. Specialists in food, relief, money, transport, oil, have done a preliminary surveying job. The results of the latest conference, dealing with oil, show that while there was a gain in understanding, negotiators at a future meeting still have big areas of disagreement to get over. In fact, the biggest question of all was sidestepped.

The vital issue is whether strict production quotas will be fixed for each oil-producing nation. The British lean toward some quota allocation system, although they were discreet in presenting their point of view at the experts' conference.

Oil specialists in the state department believe that each country should be encouraged to produce that volume of oil which would contribute to the country's economic well-being and advancement. They oppose any fixed production ceiling, arguing that, if oil is dumped indiscriminately on the market from any one source, then it should be possible to alter quotas in order to discipline the offender.

Only one serious disagreement occurred during the recent oil conference. That was over Britain's insistence on putting her foreign exchange position ahead of any oil compact.

The British experts argued that England's foreign exchange position after the war will be difficult to the point of desperation, with Britain in debt to most of the world. Therefore, for example, if it were a question of India buying oil from Iran or Iraq for her own use, the decision should be made, not in relation to the world oil picture, but on whether Britain had exchange in one country or the other.

The Americans stoutly resisted this. They said it would, in effect, invalidate any understanding and give the British a free hand to shop around the world. For a day or two, the weather in the conference room was a bit rough, as one of the British representatives put it. Finally, however, Britain yielded.

on condition that one clause in the interim agreement be modified. This clause permitted one country to withdraw from the agreement on six months notice. The British argued that the period should be shortened to three months in recognition of the possibility that Britain's scarcity of pounds in the world market might become acute. The Americans agreed.

Shortly, the two countries will each name four government experts to a commission that is to arrange an international conference. To this conference, all oil-producing nations will be invited. They will have to thresh out the matter of production levels.

So there are still a number of unknowns. But also there are a number of known factors. It is not as though this complicated, touchy business of oil were to be turned over to a lot of weary politicians without any knowledge of what it's all about.

Thus far, the only attack on the conference has come from Joseph N. Pew Jr., of the Sun Oil Company, who issued a statement in which he said that government cartels were as reprehensible as cartels formed by private companies. But, as another oil man put it, you can't tell when Joe Pew is talking oil and when he's talking Republican politics.

These preliminary talks are all leading up to the big decisions soon to be taken. They should prove enormously helpful in reaching those decisions.

Use of Ships

Editor, Bulletin: Some years after the last war, I saw a number of ships that had been built during the war and were never sent to sea. It is probable that after this war there will be a surplus of ships. We could use them to build permanent peace by making schools of them.

Let high school students study for their senior matriculation on them and at the same time see the world, visiting all parts of the British Empire and what is of equal importance, foreign countries as well, so that the youth of the world may get to know one another.

If some country would lead the way others would quickly follow. Why not Canada?

Assimilation

Editor, Bulletin: Re Japanese. Those who are shy of big families, and non-assimilation, contrive very cleverly to suggest that nationalism is a Christian specialty. Rather, I think, a supercilious analysis.

The physical life of woman is influenced by climate, constitution, education, and age in regard to marriage laws. Anyway, the sanctity of home, of family, is an integral part of a people, and of Christianity. So far as the views on assimilation, or not, is concerned, it is simply rhetoric—not reasoning. Let the humanist invite the foreigner to his home and the problem is solved.

Before I leave the subject, let me remind you, sir, that the British Empire's attitude is fundamentally different from that of continental nations, hence its versatility, and the indispensable conditions of its expansion. Germans, the Italians, the Spanish, etc., are in this particular sense all "unitarians," expecting others who settle among them to conform to the national pattern.

Great empires can not be erected on this principle.

Forgot the Aged

Editor, Bulletin: Are we or are we not to have cheaper, decent and cleaner places for old age pensioners?

Mr. Mackenzie King, passed a bill through the House, recently, called the Family Allowance Act, for the children. Now what we all would like to know, why did he forget the aged, who he expects to vote for him, we are sure. The kids can not, so he thinks the elder people will. But what about them, $25 a month, plus a $5 bonus, which can be taken away any time the war is ended.

Well, here we are; why not the Board of Trade, the unions, the CCF and other, all get together and demand, at once, that a more decent and better (larger) pension be paid to the old folks, and obtain a lower limit, so as to give the younger people more jobs.

Air Power

Quality and Quantity

By Maj. A. P. de Severaky

Any given phase of a war can be reduced to an equation of two main factors—quality and quantity. Now that Allied fortunes of war are on the ascendant, it is interesting to examine the great conflict in terms of those two factors.

Without being too technical, it is obvious that a larger force can be overcome by a smaller one only if the smaller one makes up in quality for what it lacks in size. By the same token, a force of superior quality can be defeated only when enough quantity is brought to bear to make up the quality deficit.

As military science has it: quantity in itself is a quality. But true quality is always preferable because it defeats the enemy with a smaller investment in human lives. These are axioms of war-making. When the two sides in an action are identical as to both size and quality in men and machines, then superior tactics or brains will decide the issue, unless sheer luck or accident intervenes to upset the balance.

Now that German forces both in the East and the West are retreating and taking heavy losses, it should be noted that since he started the war, Hitler has switched from reliance on numbers—on sheer quantity—to desperate efforts to overcome Allied quantitative advantages by means of a set-up in German quality.

At the outset of the war, in September of 1939, Germany counted on the effects of terrific surprise as represented by its new method of using land and air forces as a co-ordinated team. But over and above that, its entire strategy was based on immense preponderance of force; in short, on quantity.

ACTED AS BOOMERANG.—But this faith in numbers and mere mass acted as a boomerang. Just before the war, in a visit to Germany, I talked with top Luftwaffe commanders. I pointed out the clear inferiority of their air forces, especially in the matter of fire power. This was no news to German airmen, of course. At a Paris aviation show, they had seen the latest Spitfires and Hurricanes which the British had deliberately exhibited in order to impress England's preparedness on the Germans.

The Germans, however, did not seem worried about their qualitative inferiority. When I questioned them, they smiled mysteriously. After the war got under way, the mystery was quickly explained. The Germans were convinced, it appeared, that their superiority in numbers would be great enough to overcome any and all resistance regardless of quality.

BATTLE OF BRITAIN.—Their miscalculation showed up in the Battle of Britain, when the Nazis sought to knock out the RAF in order to assume control of the skies over the Channel for the planned invasion. The quality of British men and machines proved to be so high that it more than made up for Germany's 3-to-1 numerical advantage.

In the East, when Hitler attacked Russia, he reckoned, on the contrary, on defeating vastly greater numbers with a smaller but superior force, both in the quality and quantity of its weapons. In the beginning his plan worked. But at the critical point Allied strategic bombing began to grind down Germany's ability to maintain a quantitative edge in the matter of weapons. At the same time American aid began to make itself felt on the Soviet side. In short order it became clear that the Russians, despite their heavy losses at the beginning, had gained quantitative superiority over the enemy. It was the reduced German productive capacity, caused by our air assaults, that prevented Hitler from accumulating weapons necessary to stem the Russian counter-offensive.

When we started our strategic offensive against Germany's industrial set-up, the Nazis switched to reliance on quality in meeting the threat. And there is little doubt that German research did win an edge in the quality of fighter planes. Fortunately the edge was not wide enough to overcome Allied superiority in numbers. Though the enemy inflicted serious losses on our air forces, we were able to absorb them.

In the beginning of the war Germany made a fatal mistake by failing to provide the aerial means to destroy the industrial set-up of the Allies. As its own industries are melting away under the blows of Allied strategic air power, it is only natural that German reliance begins to shift from quantity to quality. That is why we hear so much about secret weapons. "Secret weapons," after all, is another name for qualitative advantage, since they aim to inflict with surprise greater destruction on the enemy with a smaller investment of life and substance.

DETERMINING FACTOR

Fortunately here, too, the Anglo-American air offensive was the determining factor. By wrecking German industrial capacity, it precluded the possibility of enough robot bombs and other "secret weapons" to affect the course of the struggle. There is, obviously, a limit beyond which quality loses its value. Firearms are superior to bows and arrows; yet theoretically we can visualize such a terrific massing of bows and arrows that it smother a machine gun.

By this time Allied quantitative superiority is so great that, to save itself, Germany would need not merely another secret weapon but a truly miraculous weapon. And that is something German scientists cannot do for Hitler.

Horse Respirators, Baby Robot Tanks Abandoned by Foe

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY ON THE SEINE, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Baby robot tanks and gas masks for horses are among equipment abandoned by the Germans in their flight across the Seine.

Twenty robot tanks were found in the Domanielle forest east of Elbeuf, where the Germans had a huge supply and ammunition dump.

The horse respirators had a metal nose cap about the size of a German helmet at the end of a sleeve of resilient treated cloth. The neck of this sleeve is elastic and could fit tightly around a horse's nose just below its eyes. There are breathing vents in the metal snout of the mask.

F.D.R. Outlines Plan For World Security Agency

By C. R. BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—(CP)—A proposed world peace agency designed to have more formidable teeth than the defunct League of Nations was outlined yesterday by President Roosevelt, who also warned against what he termed "carping discussion of its details."

He said at a press conference that to lose sight of the main objective through discussion of details would lead to misunderstanding.

The world security organization under discussion by Britain, the United States and Russia at Dumbarton Oaks will be different from the old league (which the United States refused to enter) because the league's council had no means to enforce peace in the world, he said.

OUTLINES PROCEDURE

Mr. Roosevelt outlined the steps through which disputes which threatened peace would be handled by the future organization just a few hours after chief delegates of the three countries announced their general agreement on its outlines.

First of all, he said, a dispute would go before the world court. If it cannot be settled there, there must be a meeting place where it can be discussed. He added that this could be called an assembly.

The assembly would be composed of all countries large and small, presenting the same general blueprint decided upon at Dumbarton Oaks.

PLAN QUICK ACTION

If anyone kicks over the traces and violates a frontier, Mr. Roosevelt went on, quick action would be necessary. The council of the security organization, he indicated, will have force at its disposal to move immediately in such cases.

When someone starts bombing or invading, he said, you can't have a man send out word that there will be a meeting next month.

Asked in what ways the proposed organization would be different from the League of Nations, he said there were 50 points on which differences could be found, and enumerated organizations for food and international finance. He referred to the United Nations food and agriculture organization, and the United Nations stabilization fund, agreed upon at the Bretton Woods conference.

Russia thus far has taken the sturdiest of the security organizations should be kept separate from international bodies dealing with social and economic problems but Britain has advanced views similar to President Roosevelt's, arguing that agreement on such questions would reinforce unity on problems directly affecting peace.

ONLY PRELIMINARIES

Mr. Roosevelt stressed that the Dumbarton Oaks conference is merely going into preliminaries which must later be discussed by all the nations.

The "general agreement" on the outlines of the proposed new organization were announced in a statement by the Dumbarton Oaks conference.

Edward Stettinius, undersecretary of state, made the announcement.

Admiral Expects Victory in Europe By Early Winter

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Admiral of the Fleet Baron Keyes said Monday he believed the European war would be over by early winter and that the Japanese campaign would end "much sooner than some people think."

The hero of Zeebrugge in the First Great War, and founder of the Commandos in this conflict, Baron Keyes spoke to the Canadian Club here yesterday as part of a speaking tour that will take him to Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver. After that, he said, he would fly to New Zealand and Australia "on government business."

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW

by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

DODGERS propelled the pellet around Renfrew Park for a reasonably substantial result on Tuesday night. Eighteen hits good for 30 bases constitute a new high for the season. Yanks made 19 and Arrows 12 hits on July 27, but a homer along with a pair of doubles were the extras included in the list.

Five of the first seven hits the Dodgers made were triples and one was a two-bagger. Dave Brockie's single in the second inning was the first in six blows which wasn't good for additional yardage. And then Ab Superstein crashed out his second triple.

Helmuth Brown, looking for his fourth win of the year, ran into rough weather right at the start. It just wasn't his day and eventually the Signallers' work horse walked off the mound.

TOP OUTFIELD TRIO

ALL 300 hitters during the regular schedule, the Dodger ballhaws collected three triples, a double and a single out of six chances in the first two innings. Brockie, Superstein and Green are conceded to be the top outfield trio in the circuit, both defensively and on attack.

Bert Culver, Jim Junker and Jim Kelly with two hits each were the only Signallers able to do much with Brant. Ed Schisser made a great running catch of Brant's drive following Hensley's triple in the second. Back in the infield for his first full game since his recent injury, Junker had five chances without a slip and is just as dangerous with the willow as ever.

Jack Guthrie very effectively dealt with Dodger power for a full four innings after relieving Brown. But with two out in the sixth the story was different. Ralph Morgan returned with his bat too last night and Doug Stevenson also brought his along. Clode Hensley's three for five is the best the former Yank has shown this year. Tommy Brant in addition to tossing a swell game, unwrapped three successive singles. Last night's was Brant's seventh win for the season.

Wounded in Normandy

Smythe Puts All He Has Into Business, Sport, War

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Major Conny Smythe was wounded while his 30th Anti-Aircraft Battery was fighting off an attack by German planes in Normandy. An ammunition dump was hit, and Major Smythe was directing flame-battlers when he got it. Partly paralyzed, he managed to mumble to stretcher-bearers: "Don't mind me. I'm okay. Put out that damned fire."

Major Smythe won the Military Cross as an artilleryman in World War I. Transferring to the Royal Canadian Air Force, he was shot down. As a prisoner of war in Germany, he tried to escape a half dozen times, was shifted to another prison on each occasion.

Crowding 50 now, dapper little Conny Smythe owns a flourishing sand and gravel business, was general manager of the Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League and managing director of the Toronto Gardens, raced a stable of horses when he decided to enlist in World War II.

Smythe was disgusted by the hesitancy to enlist manifested by Canadian athletes, especially hockey players. So he organized his own battery, called it the Sportsmen's and asked athletes to join. He got 285, the battery strength, in a week, but not a single professional hockey player. That made him sizzle even more.

OFFERED RECRUITING JOB

Major Smythe was offered a lieutenant-colonelcy and a recruiting job in Canada, but he was determined to see his boys through. A higher rank would have shipped him home. When he landed in France he was one of the oldest Canadian Army officers below rank of colonel in the front lines. He was 47 when he joined up this trip.

Smythe was long associated with University of Toronto athletes, particularly hockey. It was he who put pro hockey on big time. In the summer of 1926, he talked himself into the position of manager of the New York Rangers, then being organized. Smythe was responsible for mustering the original Rangers, but was replaced by Lester Patrick two days before the season opened. Riled by what he considered a double shuffle, he interested Toronto men in a franchise, recruited the Maple Leafs, built the Gardens, one of the few large sports palaces to be kept on an even financial keel. For several seasons the Gardens played to the richest gross pro hockey receipts. The Leafs have not been out of the play-offs in the last 14 years, twice won the Stanley Cup.

Several years ago, Smythe ran wagons into $100,000, decided to go in for horse racing, developed one of the best independent stables in the Dominion, had stake winners. He disposed of his string with the outbreak of World War II, retained only a couple of horses for breeding purposes.

Major Smythe's son Stafford, a sub-lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Navy, visited his father in a hospital in England.

Flery Conny Smythe puts everything he has into business, sport and war.

Smiling Today

"Didn't I tell you those boys could hit?" exclaimed Bud Corcoran, manager of the Dodgers, immediately following last night's game with U.S. Signals. Dodgers' five triples and two doubles set a season's record for extra base blows.

Five Triples, Two Doubles In 18 Hits

DODGERS mauled four pitchers for a total of 18 hits, including five triples and a pair of doubles, in crushing U.S. Signals 14-3 at Renfrew Park on Tuesday night, and the best-of-five series is now all-square at one game each. The third will be played on Thursday.

Tommy Brant's only worry was the third, when three singles and an error netted Signallers two runs. The other five hits all came in separate innings. Brant also drove in two runs himself while collecting three hits in five trips and he struck out nine, giving just one base on balls.

With the exception of Joe Shandro, who reached first once via the hit-by-pitcher method and eventually scored a run, all of "Bugs" Bagley's men made the hit column.

Helmuth Brown, starting chucker for Signallers ran into early trouble. George Green, first up fired out to Danny Hackler in left field, but then Dave Brockie, Ab Superstein and Ralph Morgan crashed out successive triples.

Brown struck out Doug Stevenson and Cliff Robinson filed to Les Nelson at third and Joe Shandro popped to Culver at short to start of the second, but then the Dodgers unleashed the heavy artillery once more.

Clode Hensley clubbed the ball to the south fence for the fourth triple and Ed Schisser robbed Brant of another by racing back almost to the centre-field bleachers to make the catch. Hensley scored of course.

Green smacked out a double and scored on Brockie's single—the first of six hits not good for at least one extra base. When Superstein hampered out his second triple to the south fence, Brown walked off the field, with the score reading 5-0.

Jack Guthrie took over and Morgan nudged him for a single sending in another run. Stevenson filed to Culver at short to end the Dodger party.

Guthrie held the rampaging Dodgers completely in check until the sixth when they swarmed again, this time collecting eight runs on seven hits, two walks and one hit-by-pitcher.

With one away, Brant singled to right field, but was forced at second by Green—Guthrie to Culver. Brockie hit to left, but Superstein walked and when Morgan also waited for four wide ones, Green was forced home.

Stevenson drove in both Brockie and Superstein with a hard smash to centre and Robinson's double to left chased in two more runners, lifting the total to 11-2. Guthrie then hit Shandro and Hensley celebrated his second trip to the plate by clouting the ball to centre scoring Robinson.

Brant also banged out a single—his second for the same inning—and Shandro trotted home. Green's hit off Pohrer who relieved Guthrie brought in Hensley and Brockie grounded to Sawyer to wind up the affair.

Jim Junker pitched the last inning for Signals. Stevenson and Hensley collected singles. Signallers picked up their third run in the eighth, Culver was safe when Stevenson juggled the ball and his throw was late. Hackler struck out, but Junker singled. Sawyer hit to Stevenson at short, who relayed to Morgan covering second to retire Junker, but Green dropped the throw which would have completed a double play.

Green to Stevenson, simple Herb Coxford then called the game due to darkness.

Pauline Betz After Third Crown

Entries Exceed Expectations For U.S. Tennis Tournament

By HARRY GRAYSON

FOREST HILLS, Aug. 30.—The United States Lawn Tennis Association refused to be stampeded into calling the whole thing off with Pearl Harbor, and entries for the National Championships in this third year exceed expectations.

They are to be decided on the courts of the famous West Side Tennis Club, Aug. 30-Sept. 4, with part of the receipts going to provide equipment for members of the armed forces.

Having finished flight training at Pensacola, Lt. Joe Hunt obtained leave to defend the men's singles title he won a year ago. It will be recalled that Lieutenant Hunt was crowned champion while lying on the turf grasping a toe in an effort to relieve excruciating pain caused by a cramp in his foot suffered as the last point was made.

Lt. W. Donald McNeill the 1940 titleholder, is on the ground. Cpl. Frank Parker is on from the Pacific coast. Francisco Segura, the Ecuadorian of the double grip and reeking color, and William Talbert of Indianapolis definitely are contenders.

13 OF FIRST 15 WOMEN

Thirteen of the first 15 ranking women will shoot it out, with the court covering Pauline Betz of Los Angeles bidding for her third consecutive singles crown.

Fiery Bobby Betz principal competitor is to be provided by Margaret Osborne of San Francisco and sturdy Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, who defend the doubles title.

Miss Osborne and Billy Talbert are the defending mixed doubles champions. Corporal Parker will have to find himself another partner in the men's doubles, which he and Ensign Jack Kramer of the Coast Guard captured a year ago. Ensign Kramer, who last summer eliminated Pancho Segura in a semi-final match, is at sea in the Pacific.

Fiery Pauline Betz simply runs legs off opponents.

Lt. Ted Schroeder, the 1942 ruler, who compared favorably with the greats of the past, is another name player who will be absent, having not yet completed flight training at Pensacola, where he provided Lieutenant Hunt with competitive preparation.

HUNT FIGURES TO REPEAT
Provided he is sharp, Lieutenant Hunt should retain the championship.

Next year will have to rate Lieutenant McNeill. Corporal Parker could finally arise to the occasion. Segura and Talbert have the advantage of having had more tournament competition this year than the others. Talbert has the strokes with which to beat Segura, but has accomplished the feat only one, although he has pressed the South American on three occasions.

Miss Betz simply runs the legs off her opponents, but Miss Osborne caught fire in the Delaware Championships and Miss Brough repeated the titleholder in the Eastern Grass Court.

There are many other widely-known players in the Nationals—Lt. Seymour Greenberg, Sidney B. Wood, Ladislav Hecht, J. Gilbert Hall, Charles W. Oliver, Lt. Hunt, Cpl. Dave Freeman, Jack Jossi, George Ball and the Mexican stars, the Vega brothers, among the men, and Doris Hart, among the women.

The U.S.L.T.A. wisely carried on, is showing net results.

Four Advance in Men's Singles

Fields Narrowing Down In City Tennis Tourney

Rain on Monday halted play that day, but the courts at Glenora dried up nicely on Tuesday and several thrilling matches were run off as the city tennis tournament concluded its third draw and the big fields in all events narrowed down.

In the men's singles, the event that appears to hold the most interest around the courts, four top-notchers advanced into the next round.

George McFadden eliminated Guy MacFarlane with little difficulty 6-1, 6-2 and "Shorts" Purcell, the pre-tournament favorite, also came through, defeating D. Graves easily, 6-1, 6-1. George Schmitt also moved into the next round, but didn't find the travelling quite as easy. He was forced to go the full three sets by the determined Gordon Marshall who put up a strong battle before bowing out of the men's singles picture, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3. Harry Kinloch won his match by default.

Only one ladies' singles game was on the draw for last night, and that saw Helen Wolfe defeat her Civil Service clubmate, Mary Miller 6-1, 6-2.

Jimmy Hoyle and Guy MacFarlane took a jump towards the men's doubles title by defeating the more highly regarded pair of Tudor Edmunds and George McFadden two straight, 6-4, 6-3. There was some very good tennis in this match, but Hoyle and MacFarlane were a little too strong for their opponents.

In the ladies' doubles, Cal Holmgren and Hazel Coe defeated Peggy Molloy and Sheila Toshack 6-3, 6-3, and in the mixed doubles, Pearl Warren and Murray Warren eliminated Bill Henning and Isobel Hooper 6-3, 6-4 in a hard fought match.

Bob Holles, George Docherty and Bill Ball won their games in the Mitchell event, while Sheila Toshack advanced in the Bulletin competition.

On Wednesday's draw several good matches have been lined up. In the men's open singles Walter McIntosh of Glenora will tangle with Les McManus of Garneau in what should be a pretty even match.

There are several good ladies' singles games drawn. Norma Mackay meeting Cal Holmgren, Isobel Hooper meeting Hazel Coe, Betty Hume meeting Pearl Warren, and Lola Mackay opposing Doris Walton.

In the men's doubles Bob Holles and George Schmitt of Civil Service will clash with Bill Ralph and George Docherty of the same club. In the mixed, Tudor Edmunds and Phyllis Sutton are drawn against Jack Heifner and Esther Purcell. George McFadden and Miss Belyea also meet Guy MacFarlane and Ann Brodie in this event.

There are also several other good matches scheduled. The complete draw is below.

Draw Indicates Hot Semi-Finals In U.S. Tennis

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The luck of the draw Tuesday indicated that two of the hottest matches in the 63rd United States national tennis championships, which begin today at Forest Hills, will take place in the semi-final round rather than the finals.

Francisco (Pancho) Segura, the two-handed swatter from Ecuador who has won nearly every important tournament this summer, and Billy Talbert of Indianapolis, his leading rival, were drawn in the same half of the men's singles. In the women's tourney, Pauline Betz of Los Angeles and Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., winner and runner-up for the past two years, also landed in the same half of the draw.

The seedings, based on this season's tournament records, placed Segura in the No. 1 spot ahead of Lieut. Don McNeill of the U.S. Navy, the 1940 national champion, and Margaret Osborne of San Francisco at No. 2 on the women's list ahead of Miss Betz. McNeill, who has played in only one tournament since beating Segura at Buenos Aires last year, lost to the Ecuadorian at Southampton, N.Y., last Sunday.

Ammunition Ban In U.S. Is Lifted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The ban on sale of ammunition to hunters was lifted Monday by the War Production Board, opening the way for the nimrod's first season since the United States entered the war.

At the same time, WPB also boosted quotas of ammunition for farmers and ranchers to use against predatory animals.

Ammunition production this year is expected to be about 62 per cent of pre-war output, WPB said.

In Canada, the prices paid for ammunition for hunting several weeks ago by permitting the purchase of rim-fire cartridges and shotgun shells.

The board explained that no centre-fire shells would be released because of the heavy demand from essential users, particularly northern residents who depend on wild game for their living.

Rookie Hurlers Win Debuts

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Rookies Clem Dreisewer of Boston and Floyd Bove of New York bowed into the American League with victories Tuesday as the two pennant contenders split a doubleheader, the Red Sox winning the opener 6-1 but dropping the second, 11-2.

Despite the even break, Boston slipped into third place as Detroit shut out Chicago to move into the runner-up spot by two percentage points.

Up from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League where he was a 20-game winner, Dreisewer shut out the 1943 champions for eight innings but the Yanks bunched three of their six hits in the ninth for their lone tally.

Joe McCarthy sent Bove out after the nightcap and the right-hander who won 10 straight for the Newark farm club in the International League responded with an eight-hitter.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Dixie Walker was the big gun in Brooklyn's nine-hit attack on Charley Schanz Tuesday as the Dodgers put over the deciding tally in the ninth for a 2-1 National League victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Walker's triple, the first of his three hits, sent Augie Galan home in the first inning. Then, after Ron Northey had tied the count with a homer in the sixth, Walker led off the ninth with a double and Gordie Rosen's pinch single sent pinch-runner Barney Kosh home with the winning run.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Chicago Cubs, off to a seven-run first inning, broke a seven-game losing streak with a 13-4 rout of Pittsburgh Tuesday, but the Pirates gained an even split of a doubleheader before 11,648 when Frankie Gustine's four hits gave them a 5-4 victory in the nightcap.

Over 10 Million
Russians Receive
Athletes Badge

(The following article was written for the Canadian Press by Konstantin Neponomyaschy, chief of the U.S.S.R. foreign relations department, physical culture and sports committee.)
MOSCOW, Aug. 30.—(CP)—"Sport for sport's sake" is unknown in the Soviet Union but physical culture is considered to have great state and social significance.

This is expressed in the award of the "ready for labor and defence" badge. To receive the badge an athlete must pass definite qualifying tests, standards vary according to sex and age. Since 1934 more than 10,000,000 persons have gained this distinction.

On the eve of war there were in Russia 88 athletic societies covering the entire country, and about 63,000 athletic clubs, 26,000 of which were in rural areas.

All forms of sport except field hockey, polo and golf were popular. Most favored recreations were skiing, gymnastics, track and field and volleyball, followed closely by marksmanship and association football.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Ten years of heart-breaking travel were required for big Clem Dreisewer to journey the quarter-mile from the Polo Grounds to Yankee Stadium, where he made his major league pitching debut Tuesday as a $30,000 beauty in a Red Sox uniform.

Only an unconquerable love for baseball enabled the handsome, blond southpaw to weather the frustrations and rebuffs as he wandered through the bus-stops of the minors since 1934 when he was at the Polo grounds with the Giants as batting-practice pitcher.

For 10 long years the left-hander from old Monroe, Mo., plodded toward this day—perhaps the most momentous of his life. As he went to the stadium mound in the opening game of a double-header against the Yanks, the ultimate in baseball suspense was achieved. Not only was Dreisewer's future at stake, but also the pennant hopes of Boston's second-place Red Sox.

Manager Joe Cronin says: "If Dreisewer lives up to his advertisements, he will take up some of the slack left by Tex Hughson's departure for the army. It may mean the pennant."

PRICE TAG WAS HIGH
CLEM's advertisements were mighty impressive, and the price tag on the 28-year-old importation from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League was mighty high. It is understood that Tom Yawkey, millionaire owner of the Boston, gave $30,000 in cash and four players, who will be delivered to Sacramento next spring.

For Sacramento this season, the 200-pound six-footer registered 20 victories against nine defeats. He had an earned-run average of only .173. He walked only 21 men in 235 innings, which indicated thread-needle control.

The brawny blond, who spends his war winters working as a carpenter in a New Orleans shipyard, blossomed out remarkably this season for a chap whose won and lost figures were exactly reversed at Sacramento in 1943, when he won only nine and lost 20. How come this sudden improvement? CHATTING in the dugout, Dreisewer explained to reporters, "During the 10 years since I left the Polo Grounds, I've been with 18 different ball clubs. During the early rumblings I had a good fastball, but not too much control and not too much stuff."

"Later," he continued, "I lost my fastball—lost some of the steam, so I concentrated on curves and a screwball and control. This season my fastball came back—just why, I don't know. I believe it's because I let myself get about 10 pounds heavier than usual—about 200 instead of 190. It seems that keeping myself too 'fine' took away my steam."

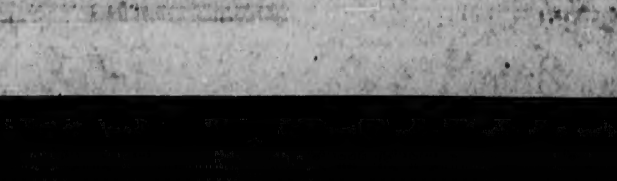

Dreisewer's performance Tuesday was considered a make-or-break for the Red Sox, who no longer expect any miracles from Rex Cecil, right-handed rookie who recently was acquired from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League for a reported $50,000. Cecil, scheduled to pitch the second game of today's doubleheader, has proved a question mark with the Sox—losing two starts and winning one start and one relief job.

"Cecil hasn't shown much yet," says Cronin, "but Dreisewer—"

Bush Fire Rages Near Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—(AP)—A bush fire burned uncontrolled in the Tarzana-Girdard area west of here last night, destroyed an estimated 30 houses and deposited ashes in downtown Los Angeles, 30 miles away.

Firemen at the scene said they received a report, as yet unconfirmed, that the blaze started when a fighter plane crashed and exploded.

No lives were reported lost and no estimate of property damage was immediately forthcoming.

The blaze appeared to be burning along a front several miles long, but because of the almost inaccessible mountainous terrain, authorities said it was impossible to estimate the size of the affected area.

Most of the homes in Encino appeared to be by-passed, but film producers, directors, actresses and actors alike joined with other townspeople in hauling out hose and sprinkling their roofs and yards.

To Winnipeg

Succeeding Inspector William Ashman, retired, Lt.-Col. K. G. Murison (above), in charge of the Canadian Pacific Railway's investigation department at Fort William, has been appointed inspector for the Manitoba district, Winnipeg, effective Sept. 1. Lt.-Col. Murison, who holds the Military Cross and Croix de Guerre from the last war, is officer commanding the 7th (R) Medium Regiment, RCA, Fort William. Inspector Murison, veteran of the old Northwest Mounted Police, has been with the CPR police department since 1913 as investigator and later inspector at Vancouver, Regina, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, Banff, Winnipeg and Fort William.

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Three persons, a civilian and two servicemen, were killed Monday at Gander, Newfoundland, in the crash of a medium bomber on a routine flight from Montreal to Britain. It was announced last night by officials of the Atlantic Group, RAF Transport Command at Dorval airport.

perated to be by-passed, but film producers, directors, actresses and actors alike joined with other townspeople in hauling out hose and sprinkling their roofs and yards.

Showers Delay Prairie Harvest In Some Areas

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Harvesting is in full swing in all provinces and in general good crops are reported, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday in the 14th of a series of 16 weekly telegraphic crop reports. Local showers have delayed threshing in some areas, but another two or three weeks will see much of the work completed.

Showers during the last 10 days have relieved the situation in the maritimes, said the bureau. Conditions now are excellent in Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick, but more moisture is needed in Nova Scotia. Harvesting of grains is general and yields are better than average.

CEREAL YIELDS GOOD

Prospects for the potato crops in Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick are promising, but yields in Nova Scotia are spotty. Harvesting of cereals now is underway in all sections of Quebec and yields are generally good. The potato crop also is promising.

In Ontario harvesting of grain is nearing completion and silo filling has started in some sections, continued the bureau. Potatoes, corn and sugar beets are showing the effects of the drought.

Showery weather is delaying harvesting operations in many areas of the prairie provinces. However, much of the grain is cut and threshing will be general in the next two weeks.

Manitoba reports from 50 to 75 per cent of the crop cut in the south and from 10 to 40 per cent in the remainder of the province. Wheat yields of from 20 to 25 bushels are general, but higher yields are indicated in the northern areas.

LATE CROPS BENEFIT

Showers have delayed harvesting in Saskatchewan but late crops have benefited. For the province as a whole 48 per cent of the wheat and 32 per cent of the coarse grains have been cut. Threshing is becoming general and relatively good yields are reported except from the south-western districts.

Good progress is being made with the harvest in Alberta although warm, dry weather is needed in the central areas. In the south where drought was serious, average yields of about five bushels are reported but prospects are good to excellent throughout the central district as far north as Edmonton.

In the Peace River area cutting is well advanced and some threshing has been done, with only fair yields. Hall occurred at scattered points during the last week and some frost is reported from northern Saskatchewan and Alberta. However, damage to date has not been severe. Pastures generally are good and livestock is in good condition.

Cool weather and frequent showers have delayed the grain harvest in British Columbia. Cutting of cereals now is well under way. The tree fruit crops will be the largest on record.

Strong Offensive In Pacific Urged

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—(CP)—When the United Nations turn their full strength against Japan they should "go into the Japanese war very offensively minded, for it is only by amphibious operations that we can carry the war to the enemy," Admiral of the Fleet Baron Keyes, former director of Britain's combined operations and amphibious warfare, said here yesterday.

Speaking before the Ottawa Canadian Club, Admiral Keyes said that defence did not always hold against an offensive, and he cited the case of the French Maginot line which the German armies outflanked to march into France.

The great ring of defence built up by the Japanese in the Pacific could and would be broken by offence.

Admiral Keyes said he was present at the Battle of Caen and watched the Canadian assault on the airfield near that city.

"I saw Canadians take the beaches that I am sure the Germans thought were impregnable," he said.

Stocks of Wheat Well Below Total Held Last Year

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Stocks of wheat in store or in transit in North America at midnight Aug. 24 totalled 291,660,542 bushels compared with 385,631,384 on the corresponding date of last year, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported yesterday.

Stocks this year included 270,436,192 bushels in Canadian positions and 21,224,350 in United States positions.

Deliveries of wheat from farms in the prairies during the week ended Aug. 24 totalled 4,437,362 bushels, compared with 1,895,882 in the previous week. The following quantities of coarse grains also were delivered with totals for the previous week in brackets:

Oats, 1,291,618 (1,161,882); bushels; barley, 1,284,334 (1,228,880); rye, 185,754 (91,323); flaxseed, 104,626 (40,625).

"Ideal" Safety-Seal Pressure Cookers

The "Ideal" is, we believe, the most easily operated cooker that has ever been put on the market. In it foods are scientifically cooked without water, under pressure at higher temperature and in less time so that full flavor and nutritive value are retained. Foods are more easily digested since high temperatures and pressure breaks down the fibre of protein foods and the starches begin to turn to sugar. As a result your family will be served the most appetizing, healthful and nutritious meals. Full instructions with each cooker.

Plan Renovate Street Railway System's Plant

Substantial alterations, renovations and extensions to the street railway system's plant at 82 street and 116 and 117 avenues will be carried out this year, with work scheduled to start in the near future.

Tenders will be called for the work probably early next week. City Commissioner R. J. Gibb announced Wednesday.

The work to be undertaken will include structural alterations to the barns to provide more space, and also better working conditions for the staff. The paint shop will be enlarged and other major improvements made. Lighting of the barns and other offices will be altered to give a maximum of efficiency.

Approximately $25,000 was placed in the 1944 estimates for this work. Commissioner Gibb stated that construction of the two "Sunset" houses scheduled for this year will be postponed until 1945 as uncertainty of labor supply prevents contractors from making firm bids on the construction work. Contractors asked to tender would undertake the work only on a cost-plus basis.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION
Now that Germany seems near defeat, have you started to think about a victory celebration in Edmonton? What form should it take?

THE ANSWERS
MAUREN PALMER, secretary: I imagine the Dominion government will order a public holiday, expecting all cities and towns in the country to observe the occasion in their own way. A public church service would probably be held in the morning on the day proclaimed, followed by afternoon and evening affairs as they are planned by those in charge. But the bigger the celebration the better, as far as I'm concerned.

NORA WHITTAKER, nurse: The question is whether there should be a celebration upon the defeat of Germany, or whether it should wait until we have won the war against Japan. Of course, there should be an observance of the defeat of Germany, but that will not mark the end of the war. The biggest celebration should be held when our soldiers return home.

IRENE CAMPBELL, stenographer: A great civil holiday with parades, receptions, fireworks, everything, is my idea of the celebration. But I think we should wait until the war is really over and the boys come back from overseas.

Moving Offices Of Mines Branch

Mines branch offices of the department of lands and mines are being moved from the Administration Building, 109 street, to the Provincial Building, 100A street and 101A avenue, it was learned Wednesday. Offices of the chief inspector of mines, John Crawford, the district inspector, electrical inspector and general offices are involved in the transfer.

Larger quarters are available in the up-town building for the growing department, and it was felt by government officials that a more central location would be advantageous for out-of-town mine operators and others connected with the industry.

For Conference

Dr. R. H. Allen, Ottawa, of the laboratory of hygiene, department of pensions and national health, arrived in Edmonton Wednesday to confer with provincial government and University of Alberta authorities.

PO. MALCOLM McMILLAN

LAW. BEATRICE McMILLAN

City Airwoman Worked Through Attack on London by Robombs

Description of the robot bombs in England has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell McMillan, 12627 122 street, Edmonton, from their daughter, LAW. Beatrice McMillan, RCAF (WD), who has been overseas for a year.

She wrote to her parents that "There is an air raid on now. I'm at work and it's 9 a.m. It's been on all night, not badly—not enough to keep me up but it's the longest alert I've ever known. There is intermittent gunfire in the distance but it isn't disturbing."

"No one is very worried about these new robot planes. They don't bother me at all. I sleep at night and go about as usual in the daytime."

NO PARADE

"There is no parade this morning on account of the alert being on. There have been so many warnings and all clear in the last few days that I don't know which is which. It has only been all clear about four hours out of 24."

"We had one of our windows blown out on Friday night. These 'doodle-bugs' coming over sound something like a motorcycle. We were wakened up by this chug-chug, then it stopped and all was so quiet for a minute. Then we heard it whistle past us and crash just a few blocks away. We were not scared but the glass all over is hard on tires."

"London is fine even with the buzz bombs. They are buzzing around now and the imminent danger signal just went and I can hear the doodle-bug quite plainly."

LAW. McMillan added: The Edmonton Bulletin newspaper clippings came today and they have been passed around the office. Everybody likes to see the cartoons and the kids from Edmonton are always interested in the weekly news letter."

PO. Malcolm McMillan, RCAF, has completed one tour of operations and will be an instructor in England. He is spending leave in Sheffield and London. He was educated at Calder Public and Technical High schools. He enlisted in the RCAF Dec. 2, 1941, and received his training at Regina, Virden and later was graduated as a sergeant-pilot at Yorkton.

Tories Plan Nominating Conventions

Plans are being completed for the holding of nominating conventions in the Battle River, Camrose, Jasper-Edson and Peace River ridings to select candidates to represent the Progressive Conservative party in the next Dominion election, it was disclosed by W. J. Wilde, organizer for Alberta, at the conclusion of a conference of party leaders in the province with John Bracken, national leader of the party, at the Macdonald hotel Tuesday afternoon.

He said that candidates would be in the field in most Alberta ridings by October 15, and that all ridings would be represented in the forthcoming election.

Annual meeting of the Edmonton West and East ridings will be held early in September, and the dates of the nominating conventions will be set following these meetings.

PEACE RIVER MEETING

The Peace River convention will be held at either Rycroft or Spirit River, Mr. Wilde stated, and the date will be announced in the near future.

Organization work is starting in the Athabasca and Vegreville ridings, and candidates will likely be placed in the field in these ridings following the completion of the nominations planned for September and the early part of October.

He said that organization was well underway in the southern part of the province with candidates in all ridings except Medicine Hat and Calgary East. Nominating conventions are being planned in the ridings for the near future.

Split Tram Switch Holds Up Traffic

Street railway service on Whyte avenue was disrupted for about an hour Tuesday night, after tram No. 3, operated by A. S. Dingman, 11423 108 street, split a switch at 104 street. There were five passengers on the car at the time, none of whom was injured after the rear trucks left the tracks and swung the car around, winding up against a steel-centre pole.

The tram had almost completed the wye at the end of its run, and was coming onto the avenue when the switch split after the front trucks had passed over it.

Other cars operating on the route were wyeed at 109 street and Whyte avenue during the hour's hold-up, from about 9:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Calgarian Finds Auto Is Altered

When J. B. Fulkert of Calgary arrived in the city to claim his auto, which had been stolen and recovered in Edmonton by Detective Harry Nelson, he found that the thieves had put some equipment onto and into the vehicle that had not been there before.

He found that two strange wheels and tires had been added, one of which was in use, while the other was in the trunk of the car. The car disappeared from Calgary on Aug. 11 and was recovered here on Sunday.

East on Course

Wing Commander Ewart G. Macpherson, commanding officer of No. 4 ITS has been posted to Trenton, Ont., for a six-week senior administrative course. It was learned Wednesday that Sqdn. Ldr. A. E. Henderson, acting commanding officer, had received a posting to Rockcliffe, Ont., and the news revived rumors concerning the closing down of No. 4 ITS owing to the curtailment of RCAF recruiting. However, official confirmation is still lacking. It is expected that Wing Commander Macpherson will return to his station upon completion of the course.

Chairman Says Liquor Body Is Dissolved

According to a ruling of the attorney-general's department, the commission appointed to investigate Alberta's liquor situation ceased to exist when the ninth Legislature was dissolved on July 7, Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of municipal affairs and committee chairman, said here Wednesday.

The committee was appointed in February by resolution of the last Legislature and began sittings in Calgary in March. The sum of $1,200 was voted by special warrant to cover subsistence allowance of members, witness costs, and other expenses. Sittings were held in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge. After a lengthy sitting here on May 8, the committee held hearings in the south. A further hearing was to be held in Edmonton, but the election intervened.

Ruling that the committee has been automatically dissolved is based on the fact it was appointed by resolution, Mr. Gerhart said. Had it been established by an Act of the Legislature, as was the post-war reconstruction committee, it would have functioned as long as the Act was in force.

Material and information gathered by the committee will be summarized and turned over to the government, according to present plans of the chairman. Unless it is found possible to re-constitute the group, concluding sittings will not be held, no further witnesses called, as money appropriated for expenses cannot be spent.

Committee members beside Mr. Gerhart were H. E. DeBolt, Social Credit M.L.A. for Spirit River, and Mayor Andrew Davidson, independent M.L.A. for Calgary. Both were re-elected to the Legislature in Aug. 8 voting. Harry D. Carrigan, secretary of the post-war reconstruction committee, was secretary of the body.

Before the Magistrate

Jacqueline McIntyre, who pleaded guilty before Magistrate A. I. Miller, K.C., in city police court on Wednesday to failing to carry her national registration certificate, was assessed $5 or 10 days.

Pauline Koblitz walked to the window of her room, where she was being interviewed by city police, and put her fist through the glass. In court, she pleaded guilty to willful damage, together with a further count of vagrancy, and said she wanted a chance to go to Calgary. On the first count she was fined $5 and costs, plus damages of $1.05 or 14 days; while a suspended sentence of 12 months on her own recognition of $250 was allowed on the charge of vagrancy.

Ralph Maas, termed by the court a "conchie", was sentenced to two months' imprisonment, and ordered to pay a fine of $50 or serve, as an alternative, an extra three months, for failure to report to a forestry camp as directed by selective service officials. At the completion of the sentence, he will be taken in police custody to the forestry camp in question.

Harold Mattson, on his third appearance this year, was fined $40 or two months on a charge of intoxication.

De Gaulle Forces To Fight Japan
LONDON, Aug. 30.—(CP)—The French forces of Gen. de Gaulle will fight Japan after the defeat of Germany, "not only for the liberation of Indo-China but until the final crushing of our enemy in Asia," Radio France of Algiers said today. "The French government," it said, "wishes the Vichy declaration giving the governor of Indo-China full power to collaborate with Japan."

Relatives City Man Preserve Sense of Humor Under Attack

Dauntless sense of humor of a British family who narrowly escaped death when a bomb hit their home, destroying it, is evidenced in a letter received from relatives in the south of England, by H. W. Budd, 10553 125 street. The writer points out that it gave them "no end of pleasure" to have lowered the average of one bomb, one person killed, to 2,754 bombs, 2,752 killed.

"Well we've had it," she wrote, "one of those flying bombs hit our kitchen roof and slid to the garden. We had been sleeping in the church crypt for about 10 nights, but days are even worse than nights as there is so much noise one can't hear them easily by day."

"Ours," as everyone calls it, came over at 9:30 Sunday morning. The four of us had just finished breakfast when we heard the bomb coming. We made it down the cellar steps when the house rocked—then a flash, and a crashing, and we were in darkness with plaster and bricks pouring down on us. What a moment.

"When a lull came we all called 'Are you all right?' and an answer came from all four of us—a never to be forgotten sound."

GOOD WORK

The writer tells of the quick and effective work of the ARP in extricating them from the rubble and taking them to a dressing station where their "slight cuts and bruises were treated."

"The damage is terrible," she continued. "Our house built more than a hundred years ago which seemed so solid that no one thought it would ever budge with any bomb, is a shambles. Next door houses are tottering, with windows out. The pub is having to be pulled down, in case it falls, windows are out for more than a quarter of a mile and ceilings down."

Lamenting the loss of all their possessions she wrote "We must begin all the fuss of making claims for damage—getting ration books—finding a house—salvaging what is left of home—and still keep dodging the blinking bombs. We think it would be a good idea to tie Hitler to the tail of one."

When the letter writer's husband was pulled out of the wreckage she said his first words were: "I'm as blind as a bat—glasses gone—deaf as a stone—and confound it, I never got my pipe." She adds that he has been given "a fine new pipe and his optician has found a pair of glasses which are helping him."

Veterans From Last War Know How to Entertain Soldiers

By MARGARET ECKER
FRANCE, Aug. 30.—(CP)—The men who were over here in the last war, the veterans who slugged their way through France once before, know what soldiers think about things, and how they like a bit of good clean fun and relaxation when they're a lull from the front line.

That's exactly what the men of the Canadian Legion over here are providing.

Fred Ring of Weyburn, Sask., with a couple of assistants, organizes the entertainment for No. 8 Canadian general hospital, patients and staff.

"We don't give them anything heavy—mostly something bright and breezy, the sort of thing the boys like," said Fred Ring. "They like live."

LEGION TENT

You can find something to do any hour of the night or day in the big legion tent. There's magazines from Canada, books, English newspapers only a day old. There's always free cigarettes and a cup of tea.

The tent is gay and cheery with flags and bunting. "It's a nice place to get away from things," said Pte. Elias Mandel of Regina who was writing a letter.

SEND FLOWERS
The boys can send cablegrams home too, from here, and flowers.

"We cable about $50 worth of flowers home to Canada for the boys every day," said Fred.

Saturday night, the Legion puts on a bingo game for the boys with cigarettes and chocolate as prizes.

And a man in uniform can have his favorite sport for the asking.

They say you can often see the Canadian soldiers off duty kicking a football around almost on the battlefield, and probably a legion man, like Fred Ring, organized the game.

and each shook hands in turn. "Bon soir," the French women greeted the Canadian girls and, "bon soir," they replied in their best French.

ARTILLERY ACTIVE
While Sisters Lowe and Morrison watched the Germans shelling a wood southwest of Caen, Sisters Browne and Hunter were driven through debris-littered streets of the town and crossed a pontoon bridge to the other side of the river.

They were probably the first Canadian sisters to cross the Orne and as they drove along a road between two rows of tanks, Canadian artillery started thundering away.

"Our or theirs?" Sister Hunter asked and she was re-assured that they were ours. The German artillery wasn't paying any attention to that part of the front that night.

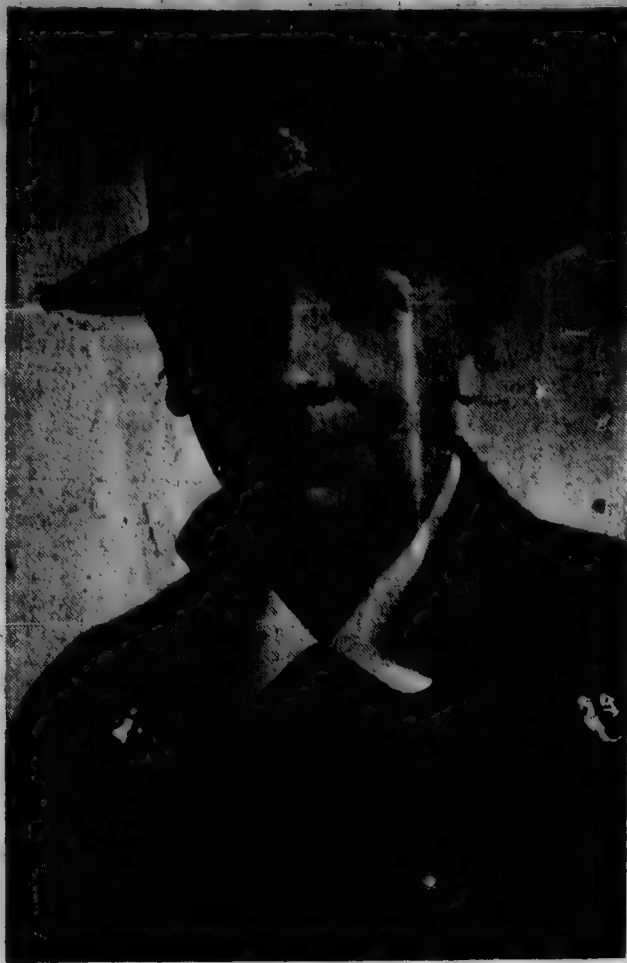

As the jeep moved through the flattened sections of Caen, Sister Browne surveyed the wreckage for a while and then remarked, "The Romans have nothing on us for ruins," adding, "theirs are older but ours are more thorough."

Their only comment when they got back to the tented camp, where they had arrived a few days before, was that they had enjoyed the drive.

"It was perfectly wonderful," they said.

DOTS FOR DASH

Newest fabric for fall is the bright color-dotted-satin used for the party pajama and rolled collar which trim the slim-lined New York creation above. A yard of this multicolored print might be the answer to your question of how to bring up to date last year's good little black dress.

RCAF Sergeant Is Married To Miss Margaret Isabell Hay

Tall standards of pink gladioli and blue delphinium decorated St. Andrew's Presbyterian church for the wedding Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. of Miss Margaret Isabell Hay, daughter of Mrs. Janet Hay and the late William Hay, and Sgt. Frederick John Wheatley, RCAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wheatley, all of Edmonton. The Rev. J. MacBeath Miller performed the ceremony. J. Colburn played the wedding music and Mrs. Nicholas Ambrose sang "I'll Walk Beside You".

The bride was given in marriage by her mother. She wore a two-piece Queen's blue wool suit, a bandeau of white sweetpeas, red roses and blue veiling in her hair. The bride carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and white sweetpeas.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Helen Hay, who was maid-of-honor and wore a two-piece lime green wool suit, brown accessories and a bandeau of pale pink sweetpeas and green veiling. She carried a bouquet of pastel shaded sweetpeas.

Best man was Roland Moore and ushers were Lloyd Cunningham and William Webster.

After the ceremony a reception for 50 guests was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Allard, 1920 14th street, where the rooms were a profusion of gladioli and snapdragons. A three-tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table and decorations were pink gladioli and ivory tapers. Mr. Cunningham proposed the toast to the bride.

Mrs. Hay chose for her daughter's wedding a two-piece blue crepe frock, black hat and accessories and a corsage of Tallamas roses. Mrs. Wheatley, mother of the bridegroom, wore a two-piece turquoise blue crepe frock, hat to match, and a corsage of pale pink sweetpeas.

Later the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Jasper, the bride travelling in a brown tailored suit, brown hat and accessories and a beige top coat. Upon their return Sgt. and Mrs. Wheatley will reside in Edmonton temporarily.

Survey of Pupils With Defective Hearing Planned

Recommendation that R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of schools, make a survey to determine the number of pupils with defective hearing in Edmonton schools, to find if there is a sufficient number to warrant a special class, was made by the Public School Board Tuesday night at the first meeting after the summer recess.

Mr. Sheppard pointed out that there was a "sight-seeing" class at the Queen's Avenue school for children with defective eyesight. There is another room in this school that could be used for the proposed class if there is sufficient pupils and if there is a teacher available with the necessary qualifications, he said.

APPROVE RESIGNATIONS

Resignations of seven teachers and one school nurse were approved, also the retirement of Miss M. Alma Crozier. Leaves of absence for four teachers were granted.

Changes on various staffs, due to resignations and retirements, are Miss Winnifred Smith, B.A., to be transferred from Oliver Intermediate to Eastwood High school; E. J. Hanson, B.A., appointed as half-time teacher at the University High school for the period October, 1944, to July, 1945; H. W. Burpee, B.A., appointed substitute teacher on the intermediate staff; M. G. Brimacombe and Miss Muriel Caldwell appointed as substitute teachers on the elementary staff.

It was noted that some teachers

Allied Leaders Confer in Northern France

Gen. Montgomery, Allied commander in northern France, confers with Lieut.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, Canadian 1st Army commander, centre, and Air Chief Marshal Sir Trafford Leigh-Mallory at Gen. Crerar's headquarters somewhere in France.

on military leave have been advised that they will be released from military duties to be available to their profession when schools reopen in October. Arrangements have been made to meet this situation and that which might arise later in the year.

The statement of revenue and expenditures was approved. The application of the Allied Arts Council for the use of the Westinghouse auditorium on evenings from October 4 to 7 inclusive for the production of a play, "Dark Eyes," was approved on conditions that they accept the terms laid down by the school board.

The board decided to acquiesce to the travelling of 102 avenue, between 117 and 118 street, by the Oliver school and Wesley United Church, the board owning the entire property on the north side of this particular block.

REQUEST IS GRANTED

Request by the Separate school board to rent the old Glenora school for the forthcoming school year was considered. It was decided to let them do this on condition, and if possible, the exchange of a building in some other area might be arranged.

A fourth travelling school stenographer is to be added to the staff this year, on the recommendation of R. S. Sheppard.

Congratulations from the board were extended to A. E. Ottewill, who has been made president of the Canadian Teachers Association, at the convention in Toronto recently.

The property committee reported that progress on the building of the new room at Forest Heights is most satisfactory. It was also noted as a matter of interest that all the larger schools are well filled with coal. It is expected that there will be ample coal, and of a better quality, than in former years. This is due to the co-operation of the various coal companies, it was stated.

A basement room is being opened at the Rutherford school. Fluorescent lighting has been put in Norwood, Alex Taylor and McKay Avenue schools. New rooms have been opened at Parkdale, and H. A. Gray schools.

The situation at the Calder school is not yet clarified. The school is filled now. Should the army huts in that vicinity be turned over to the city for the housing of families, supposedly about 75, this will necessitate the opening of the old Calder school to accommodate additional pupils.

Drug Firm Is Fined For Omitting Label

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Ingram and Bell Limited, Toronto drug supply firm, yesterday was fined $500 and costs for failing to affix to a shipment of methanol a label describing it as poison. The charge was laid by Royal Canadian Mounted Police. An officer said part of the shipment had been removed from a ship at Saint John, N.B., and that 14 persons died from drinking it and several others were taken to hospital.

A survey revealed that in grocery stores 75 per cent of the women bought one or more items they had not planned to buy.

Direct Peace Move By Finland Seen

By EDWARD SHANKE

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The impression grew in Stockholm yesterday that Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim, president of Finland, was about ready to take up direct contact with Russia for an armistice. It was learned that his government sent a message Monday to Moscow through diplomatic channels.

Contents of the message were not disclosed. It was, however, regarded as certainly dealing with the peace question.

Finland's peace envoy to Russia, Juho Kusti Paasikivi, was called back to Helsinki late Monday from the small Finnish town of Nädendal where he had been resting for the last eight weeks.

It was recalled that Finnish Minister George Gripenberg returned here from Helsinki Sunday after consulting the Mannerheim government.

President Roosevelt To Meet Churchill But Won't Say When

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, asked at a press conference yesterday whether the time and place had been selected for his next talk with Prime Minister Churchill, said they were too intimate to reveal. As an illustration, he said they would relate an intimate fact—that he had a bath in the morning. In other words, he said, it is an intimate fact that everyone knew he was going to meet Mr. Churchill but the time and place could not be disclosed.

North Edmonton Camp Is Ended

The North Edmonton Day Camp, organized and run by the Girl Guides Association, and sponsored by the Council of Social Agencies, came to an end on Friday after two weeks of activities. The 24 registered campers, from eight to 14 years old, included six boys, and all said they would be back next year.

The camp was centred at St. Francis Hall, but most activities were carried on out of doors, sometimes under canvas, the children soon learning to pitch and strike their own tents.

The program included games, tracing, singing, dancing, a visit to the zoo, swimming and lunch at Borden Park, and handicrafts. One of the favorite handicrafts was the making of bright colored belts of braided twine with wooden buckles. Certificates and badge awards were presented on the last day, which was also Parents' day.

Visitors during the week included Mrs. E. C. Pades, provincial commissioner, and Mrs. S. H. Gandier, deputy provincial commissioner of the Girl Guides Association and Miss Peggy Martin, captain of the 20th Edmonton Company.

Miss Betty Forster Martin, camp director, was assisted by Miss June Burwell and Miss Millicent Penney.
